DOLLAR VALUE FIXED AT PAR FOR TARIFFS

Government Sets Parity as Basis for All Customs Purposes

WILL DELAY RELIEF BILL NOW IN HOUSE

OTTAWA, March 6 (CP).—The United States dollar will be considered as at par with the Canadian dollar, for duty purposes, during the present emergency in the United States. The decision was made by the Canadian Government tonight, countermanding a previous departmental ruling today, which had fixed the United States dollar as worth $1.25 in Canadian funds.

Hon. E. B. Ryckman tonight issued the following statement: "There is no reason why, during the present emergency in the United States, we should not accept their dollar at par of exchange for all customs purposes. The United States dollar will be so treated until such time as their banks resume business and the exchange value of their dollar is officially quoted."

AFFECTS MARKET VALUE

Departmental officials explained that the 25-cent premium had been previously arrived at after conferences with the banks as an outside figure the United States premium might reach. The fixing of the rate of United States funds is important in that it fixes the fair market value of goods imported from the United States.

United States firms, under the revised order, may sell to Canadian importers at the same rate in Canadian funds as they charge their United States customers in United States funds and not be considered as dumping into this country.

If United States funds were at a premium and they sold at the same prices in both funds, they would be considered as selling in this country below the fair market price in the United States and have to pay a dumping duty to the extent of the premium.

ACTION ON BILL DELAYED

At Ottawa the Government, in view of the developments in the world's financial affairs of the past few days, decided to hold up further action on its bills giving $20,000,000 for continued administration of relief, and the Opposition concurred in delaying action until the situation is clarified.

PREMIER HALTS ACTION ON BILL

Further Information and Opinions to Be Gathered on Army Law

OTTAWA, March 6 (CP).—Canadian troops will not leave the country for a theatre of war until parliamentary sanction has been obtained, it was agreed in the House of Commons today by the leaders of the Conservative and Liberal parties, Premier R. B. Bennett and Rt. Hon. MacKenzie King.

WAR MOVEMENTS

The broad subject of troop movements during a war was introduced when Premier Bennett sponsored a Government bill respecting command, discipline and attachments of Commonwealth forces when serving together. It was an aftermath of the Statute of Westminster, which established equality of status between the component parts of the Commonwealth.

When Mr. King took the view that the bill would permit the Minister of National Defence to mobilise troops without the authority of Parliament, and also place Canadian troops under a single Commonwealth command without parliamentary sanction, the Prime Minister agreed not to proceed further until he had consulted with the chief of the general staff and the law officers of the Department of External Affairs.

STAYS IN COMMITTEE

The bill was in committee stage and will remain there until the Prime Minister gathers further information and opinions.

The legislation, said the Prime Minister, had no war application. Its main object was to provide for the discipline and internal administration of visiting Commonwealth forces when present in Canada.

Lost Fingers Saving Sister

IN the heroic rescue of her younger sister from under the wheels of a freight car, eight-year-old Betty LeMaster, of Athena, O., sacrificed seven fingers. Rita, the sister, aged six, was playing under a stationary car in the freight yards. When the locomotive sounded a warning, Betty scrambled under the car, and pushed Rita to safety. The older girl stumbled as she crawled out from under the car, her hands falling on the rail under the moving wheels. Betty and her nurse are shown in the hospital.

U.S. TO OPERATE ON SCRIP BASIS UNTIL CRISIS SURMOUNTED

President Roosevelt Declares Four-Day National Banking Holiday—Speedy Action Promised When New Congress Meets on Thursday—Expect Restoration of Confidence

WASHINGTON, March 6 (AP).—The four-day national banking holiday in the United States, declared late last night by President Roosevelt, was relaxed tonight by the administration to open the institutions for new business and emergency payments on foodstuffs. Keeping the gold supply of the country still locked in the vaults against hoarders and "foreign raiders," the President devoted himself today to easing the strain on the moneyless populace.

In his only public expression, he told a conference of state governors assembled in the White House, that one objective of the banking proclamation was "to provide some form of circulating medium for the country in addition to the outstanding currency, because a large part has been put into hiding." He added, "I have confidence the public will accept that circulating medium."

CONGRESS TO MEET

By tomorrow it is expected a system for clearing house certificates will be completed. These are to serve as the medium of exchange during the crisis, which the President expects to end completely by emergency legislation in the new Congress, meeting on Thursday.

As leaders of hopeful citizenry rallied around the President in public expressions of confidence, his Secretary of the Treasury, William H. Woodbin, promulgated the modifications to loosen the channels of monetary exchange.

His string of regulations opened to withdrawal the deposits placed in banks after they had been closed by

Shell Money Circulating In California

CRESCENT CITY, Calif., March 6 (AP).—Clam shells, in 10 and 25-cent denominations, and bearing the signature of issuers, made their appearance as money here today.

The issuers promised to redeem them in silver upon demand.

FILM STUDIO GOING AHEAD

New Lease Being Drafted—Several Sets Already Completed for First Picture

A new lease will be drafted by the city for Kenneth J. Bishop, of the Commonwealth Productions Ltd., motion picture company, in which the Main Building at the Willows will be used as a studio instead of the Horse Show Building, and the city will receive $400 rent instead of the nominal sum of $1.

Approval of the new arrangements was withheld by the council, at its meeting last night, until the draft of the lease is prepared.

Alderman W. A. Luney, who is a director of the B.C. Agricultural Association, stated the city had nothing to lose and everything to gain by granting the lease. Both Alderman J. D. Hunter and W. D. Todd said that under the new lease the city would be ahead approximately $400 more than under the old lease.

COMPANY IS ACTIVE

When Alderman John A. Worthington asked what the company was doing, Mayor David Leeming assured him that considerable money had been spent in the city by the company; that some three or four sets for the first picture already were completed and that nine men were employed now on making other preparations. In addition, orders had been given in Victoria for the building up of lighting and camera equipment, which it had previously been planned to import.

Alderman Todd added that it was not a stock-promoting scheme and that the company would produce its first picture without asking the citizens for a cent.

Bullion Dealers Offer Increased Price for Silver

NEW YORK, March 6 (AP).— Notwithstanding the banking holiday, an official price of 29 3-4 cents an ounce for New York bar silver was fixed today by the firm of Handy & Hartman, bullion dealers.

This is an advance of 2 1-2 cents an ounce over last Friday's quotation.

G. R. LOVATT IS ARRESTED

Charged With Attempted Murder Following Wounding of C. A. Coulson

George R. Lovatt, age forty-four years, of 2030 Milton Street, is in jail charged with attempted murder, and Charles Alexander Coulson, aged fifty-six years, of 2018 Meadow Place, is in the Jubilee Hospital suffering from gunshot wounds, as a result of an alleged shooting affray at Lovatt's home on Sunday. Mrs. Jessie Lovatt, wife of the accused, also is in the Jubilee Hospital suffering from shock, having been a witness to the shooting, Oak Bay police stated.

Coulson was operated upon last night and at an early hour this morning he was reported to be "very low." Prior to being taken to the operating room, Coulson made a declaration to police in the presence of Magistrate George Jay, Claude L. Harrison, Oak Bay prosecutor, and Chief of Police John Syme.

Dr. Gordon Kenning is attending Coulson and Mrs. Lovatt. The latter is reported to be much improved.

The accused appeared before Magistrate George Jay in the Oak Bay police court, yesterday morning, and the case was remanded for eight days, pending the determination of Coulson's condition. P. J. Sinnott, counsel for Lovatt, appeared in court and asked that bail be set, but this was refused, owing to the uncertainty regarding Coulson's condition.

CALLS POLICE

According to Oak Bay police, Lovatt telephoned to them from his home on Milton Street, about 6 o'clock, Sunday night. Constable L. Douglas responded to the call and found Coulson standing in the kitchen, bleeding from the hand and a wound in the side. Lovatt let the constable into the house.

On seeing what had happened, the constable immediately called in Chief of Police John Syme, who, after rendering first aid had the Chris is twenty-three years of age and Joe twenty-five. They are the sons of Joseph Deam, Canadian Pacific Railway roadmaster here. When they failed to return February 25, a search was instigated, but so far no sign of the youths has been located.

Canadian Markets Strong in Face of U.S. Bank Holiday

Dealings in Foreign Exchange Paralyzed by Situation, But Wheat and Share Prices Advance—Internal Business Transacted Cheerfully

BOOM in wheat and buoyancy on the stock markets were cheerful spots of the Canadian picture as the Dominion, Monday, combated the first day of the United States national bank holiday. But exchange dealings with the United States were paralyzed, and Canadian banks, express companies and the postoffice were forced to clamp the lid on bank drafts, postal notes and money orders between Canada and foreign countries.

Closing of the United States Federal Reserve system, with its accompanying removal of the United States dollar as measuring post of foreign exchanges, resulted in such a state of uncertainty regarding the international value of the Canadian dollar, authorities found it necessary to check international payments. Postal orders, for instance, may not be sent from Canada even to the United Kingdom, nor cashed here from outside—simply because it is impossible to figure out the exchange.

U.S. CURRENCY DISAPPEARING

United States currency is fast disappearing in Canada, being grabbed up largely by United States concerns forced on a scrip basis. With the dollar sought everywhere, some of the Canadian banks Monday resorted to quoting the United States dollar at a nominal premium of 15 per cent, this having no real relation to the actual exchange rate, which is non-existent.

Domestically, Canada did business cheerfully, and nowhere was this manifest clearer than in the Winnipeg wheat pit. There grain continued its advance of Saturday, under good buying orders from the States, closing ore than two cents higher, with the October wheat future reaching fifty-five cents, and grain traders looking to "dollar wheat," which not long ago seemed to have vanished forever.

MARKETS ARE CAUTIOUS

Stock exchange heads were cautious in opening Canadian markets, having in mind the possibility of a flood of selling orders from across the border, now the mails have had sufficient time to bring actual securities. But Montreal and Toronto stock exchanges opened as usual, and within a very short time, it was quite clear there was no selling wave to fear.

The Toronto and Montreal stock exchanges, wary through the earlier part of the day, finished with an enthusiastic bull move, which not only wiped out earlier recessions, but ended in net advances of up to four points. The weakness in gold shares was the only unfavorable reaction to the United States situation

Large Corporation Buys Block of Cariboo Claims

VANCOUVER, March 6.—United States Mining, Smelting & Refining Company, one of the largest mine operating organizations on the continent, has acquired a block of fifty claims in Cariboo. The deal was negotiated between W. T. Hoover, of Los Angeles, representing the owners, and L. F. Paddison, Western fieldman for United States Smelters.

The area acquired embraces a large block of well-located claims between Antler and Cunningham Creeks, and it is reported that good showings have been found, although locations are comparatively recent. The district lies about eight miles southeast of Barkerville.

United States Smelters is the latest of the big operators to acquire Cariboo holdings. Others already interested by purchase, option or bond, include Newmont Mining Corporation of New York, Britannia Mining Company, Ventures Limited, Premier Gold Mining Company, Braico Development & Investment Company. Other large concerns are understood to be negotiating.

Leaving for Geneva On Task to Advance World Disarmament

British Ministers Face Many Difficulties in Problem Apparently Insoluble

GERMAN ATTITUDE GREATEST OBSTACLE

LONDON, March 6 (CP).—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald and Foreign Secretary Sir John Simon are expected to leave for Geneva over the week-end and attempt to save the world disarmament conference from what many fear may be failure.

France and Poland are reported alarmed over election of a Fascist Government in Germany, the Far East is aflame with conflict, and no nation, so far, has followed the British lead in placing an embargo on export of arms to the embattled nations. Nations which have been most active in condemning Japan as the aggressor in her conquest of the Chinese province of Jehol, are reported here supplying arms to both sides. Some commentators even claim arms manufactured in Belgium are being taken into Germany through Holland.

THE GREATEST DIFFICULTY

Greatest difficulty in the way of success at Geneva is expected to lie in the German attitude. Great Britain has already recognized the principle of the German claim to equality of armaments, conditionally on European nations solemnly affirming they would not, under any circumstances, resort to force as a means of settling disputes. One idea behind this condition was that Germany would not use her armament

MAY INCREASE FEDERAL SHARE

Government Giving Serious Consideration to Bearing More of Pensions Cost

OTTAWA, March 6 (CP).—Serious consideration has been given to further increasing the Dominion's share in old age pension payments, Hon. W. A. Gordon, Minister of Labor, told the House of Commons tonight.

Answering a bombardment of Opposition questions dealing with alleged injustices in administration of the act and with pre-election promises the pensions would be made a national undertaking, the Minister pointed out the Government, since taking office, had once increased the Dominion's share.

The question of whether or not the Government would take over the pensions payments 100 per cent would obviously require great study and consideration, and he was not prepared to give a positive answer at the moment, the Minister said. The subject came up when the House, in committee of supply, was considering the estimates of the Department of Labor.

B.C. Cows Busy in China

IN Shanghai, the milk is delivered in one of these vehicles—a cross between a cart and a rickshaw. It is Class "A" milk in this case, the product largely of British Columbia-bred cows owned by the Culty Dairy at Shanghai. There is a growing market in China for high-class Canadian cows, according to Peter L. Scott, of Vernon, who recently took this snapshot on the picturesque Bubbling Well Road.

German Electors Return Hitler by Decisive Margin

Nazis and Nationalist Allies Given Clear Majority in National and Prussian State Contests—Reichstag May Be Adjourned for Two Years After First Meeting

BERLIN, March 6 (AP).—Backed by his overwhelming victory in yesterday's Reichstag election, Chancellor Adolf Hitler today attacked the task of reshuffling his Government, which, official circles predicted, will rule Germany unimpeded by any Reichstag session for two years.

Hitler's Nazis will comprise the largest group ever sent to a German Parliament, the final tabulation giving them 288 seats in a Reichstag with 647. Their Nationalist allies got fifty-two seats. They got 17,264,000 and 3,131,000 votes respectively of the 39,290,000 cast.

NEAR CLEAR MAJORITY

If the Communists are ruled out, as is expected, Chancellor Hitler will dominate the situation entirely, the Nazis thus obtaining clear majorities on both the Reichstag and the Prussian Diet. The Nazis and Nationalists won 43 and 9 per cent, respectively, out of the Diet seats.

In all likelihood, Hitler will be the next Premier of Prussia, the largest state of the Reich, at the same time continuing as the Chancellor, one of his close advisers said.

On Tuesday the Cabinet will meet to set the date for the first meeting of the new Reichstag. After a brief session, the National Legislature is expected to shut up shop for two years.

Whatever happens, the Chancellor's advisers said, Vice-Chancellor Franz von Papen will not assume

MAYOR CERMAK LOSES IN FIGHT

Death Comes After Long Battle Against Effects of Bullet

MIAMI, Fla., March 6 (AP).—A bullet intended for President Franklin Roosevelt brought death to Mayor Anton J. Cermak, of Chicago, in a hospital here today, and about ten hours later Giuseppe Zangara the assassin, was indicted for first degree murder.

The mayor died at 6:57 a.m., after nineteen days of suffering with the wound and the many complications it caused. Almost immediately the county grand jury met and began hearing testimony on which it based the murder indictment.

ARRAIGNMENT TODAY

Circuit Judge O. Thompson announced that Zangara, a naturalized Italian, will be arraigned at noon tomorrow. Conviction carries the death penalty by electrocution. The assassin is already under eighty years' prison sentence for firing on Roosevelt and wounding three other persons.

An autopsy fixed the cause of Cermak's death as gangrene of the right lung, which was punctured by the bullet, causing a collapse.

Although jailors would not confirm whether Zangara had been informed of Cermak's death, it was learned from a reliable source that the assassin had been told and showed no concern. He was quoted as saying: "Me no care. It was fault of that woman beside me."

Zangara has said a woman struck his arm, causing him to miss his aim at Mr. Roosevelt.

Cermak died peacefully, his family gathered at his bedside. He was in a coma for many hours before death.

A special train bearing the body back to Chicago is due there at 10 a.m. Wednesday.

STERLING RATE SOARS ABRUPTLY

British Funds Close Nineteen Cents Higher at Montreal After Touching $4.26

MONTREAL, March 6 (CP).—Increased demand for the pound sterling following United States financial holiday subjected the English currency to a sharp rise in terms of Canadian funds today.

From Saturday's closing quotation of $4.04 the pound moved up rapidly to a high of $4.26 at midday. The final figure was $4.23.

No quotations were offered on United States funds

Cigars Given Jurors Basis For New Trial

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., March 6.—When one person gives another person a cigar, that may be a friendly act. But when a litigant does the same to a juror, that's grounds for a new trial.

The Minnesota Supreme Court has said as much in ordering a retrial of an action brought at Moorhead, Minn. Defendants, the court discovered, had given sweets and smokes to jurors, while the jurors in turn promised a dinner in honor of the defendants after the trial was terminated—though this dinner never actually was given.

The court also criticized a clerk and a bailiff.

"Officers of the court present at a trial should be, in their demeanor, as impassive as the judge," said the opinion of the State's Supreme tribunal.

Debt Negotiations Must Await Domestic Problem

WASHINOTON, March 6 (AP).—Speaker-nominee Rainey today told newspapermen that "war-debt" negotiations will have to be delayed pending readjustment of the United States financial situation.

"We are going to take care of our domestic affairs first," Rainey said. He added, however, that the plans for the World Economic Conference in London would "go right ahead."

Rainey said, in discussing the banking situation: "We are over the worst of the depression. We have taken the first step toward economic recovery, although the step was drastic. I think we are off the gold standard, we really have been off the gold standard for some time."

Rainey also said he felt the situation would be straightened out by March 15 so that the Government could refinance $1,000,000,000 in maturing obligations on that date.

"The membership of the Democratic House is going to support the President and the legislation he reccommends," Rainey said.

MAKING LAST STAND BELOW GREAT WALL

JAPANESE REPORT FORCE WIPED OUT

PEIPING, March 6 (AP).—China's defeated army, driven back from Jehol City, has formed a defence line against a possible invasion of China proper and will make its last stand twenty miles south of Koupeikow, Marshal Chang Hsiao-Liang's headquarters said today.

The town of Koupeikow guards a gate through the Great Wall sixty-five miles northeast of here and fifty miles south of Jehol City.

STILL FIGHTING

Fighting still continues in the Province of Jehol, the Chinese reported. There was an engagement at Hsifengkow Pass, forty-five miles southeast of Jehol City, and another near the town of Weichang, near Chihfeng.

Chang's headquarters had word this morning that Tang Yu-Lin, Governor of Jehol, had been seen near Koupeikow. A detachment of troops was sent there to arrest him on a charge of desertion, but he had gone when they arrived.

The conquest of Jehol puts the Japanese within seventy miles of Peiping by good motor highway, neutral military observers pointed out tonight.

COMMAND MOUNTAINS

Possession of the conquered province gives Japan command of the Khingan Mountains, both north and south, as a defence against a possible thrust from Russia, and also removes the risk of a flank movement through Jehol into the Mukden Plain. Now Japan can penetrate Inner Mongolia from Jehol through the neighboring Province of Chahar.

EVICTED AFTER ONE MAN SHOT

Policeman Shoots When Threatening Crowd Interferes With Baliff

MONTREAL, March 6 (CP).—A policeman's bullet today ended the life of Nick Zynchuck, thirty-two, who attempted to force his way into his boarding-house to claim personal belongings. An angry crowd was milling about the house, from which bailiffs were evicting the tenants.

The policeman, Constable Joseph Zappa, apparently made "jumpy" by the threatening crowd, fired his revolver at the man, who was fatally wounded, dying in hospital shortly afterwards. Director of Police Fernand Durfresne later announced Constable Zappa had been suspended until the shooting could be thoroughly investigated.

CARRIED TO STREET

The chain of incidents started when bailiffs arrived to seize the furniture and evict the family of John Wlostizosak, Wlostizosak, bedridden for weeks with a broken leg, is alleged to have been ousted from his bed and carried to the street, this leading to intercession on the part of neighbors. A crowd of 2,000 was quickly attracted by the dispute.

According to Mrs. Wlostizosak, she owed two months' rent, which she was unable to pay immediately.

Shortly after the shooting, police secured control of the situation and the eviction was concluded.

PREDICTS RECORD YEAR FOR GOLD PRODUCTION

SUDBURY, Ont., March 6 (CP).—All previous records for Canadian production of gold, including that of the year 1932, will be exceeded during the current twelve months' period, predicted George C. Bateman, secretary of the Ontario Mining Association, here. According to a survey he had made province by province, the probable gold production of Canada, for the year 1933, exclusive of exchange compensation, would be about $67,500,000, as compared with $63,500,000 in 1932.

CHARGES ARE CHALLENGED

Ald. R. T. Williams Refuses to Retract Allegations Made Against Council

Alderman R. T. Williams was asked at last night's meeting of the City Council to either retract or prove the charges of council "irregularities" and "railroading" that he uttered at a recent meeting of the Trades and Labor Council. After considerable debate, the council proceeded with the regular business at the request of the Mayor, who said: "You will get no satisfaction from Alderman Williams, so why bother?"

The matter was brought up by Alderman P. R. Brown, who read a newspaper clipping of an account of a Trades and Labor Council meeting at which it was revealed that Alderman Williams had said the council did many irregular things and that a great deal of important business was railroaded.

GIVES INSTANCES

Alderman Williams was asked to prove his charges or retract them. The alderman said there were lots of irregularities and that he could name them. He listed two. One was in connection with the application for a position in the electric light department. He said the all recommendations of the man who was appointed had not been pinned to his application. This he classed as an irregularity.

"Last year you disenfranchised 12,000 voters. I have a lot more irregularities and can give them to you if you wish," Alderman Williams declared.

ANSWERS CHARGE

Mayor Leeming interjected that the disenfranchising of the citizens in connection with the police commission was not irregular and that the council had discussed and voted upon the matter in open council.

Alderman Williams disagreed with the Mayor on this point, and when his instances of irregularities were questioned by other members of the council, he again differed.

The Mayor concluded the discussion by declaring that Alderman Williams' views on irregularities were peculiar and that anything passed over his protest was railroading.

"We won't get anywhere arguing with him. I suggest we go on with the regular business," the Mayor declared.

Alderman John A. Worthington also took the view that "it is hopeless to make Alderman Williams see anything in any other light than he wishes to see it," and proposed the motion to proceed with the regular business, which ended the dispute.

PERSONAL AFFRONT

Alderman Brown viewed the charges made by Alderman Williams as a personal affront on each member of the council and contended that Alderman Williams should either prove his charges to the fullest extent or retract his statements.

Alderman James Adam won from Alderman Williams an admission that certain charges he had made regarding certain civic appointments were based on hearsay, while the Mayor pointedly remarked to the alderman under fire "you know you can't prove them," and failed to get an answer.

BANDITS HOLD UP VANCOUVER STORE

Soble Silk Shop Scene of Second Daring Robbery Within Few Months

VANCOUVER, March 6.—Two gunmen, each armed with automatic pistols, held up the three-girl staff of Soble's Silk Shop, West Hastings Street, this afternoon and escaped with $55 cash.

The robbers walked casually into the store and, posing as customers, commenced examination of some goods. When a girl clerk went to wait upon them, they turned with levelled guns.

"It's a hold-up," said one. "Don't move and don't yell."

One of the men ran to the cashier's desk and scooped up the money. The two men then backed out of the front door and ran east on Hastings Street. It is believed by police that they had an auto parked nearby.

The Soble Silk Shop, Hastings Street, was held up in a similar manner last November, when a considerable sum of money was taken.

BAG OF GOLD DISCONCERTS

Threat to Take Action Is Answered by Payment in American Coin

CALGARY, March 6 (CP).—Calgary financial circles tonight were trying to fathom the city's gold payment to the Malden Trust Company, of Malden, Mass., whose solicitors today received from city officials $5,185 in American gold coin in payment for debentures held by the American firm.

This was Calgary's answer to the company's announcement it would take court action against the city unless it paid for the debentures, which matured at New York on January 1, in American funds. Reversing its decision to make payment in Canadian funds only, the city donated the gold in a neat canvas bag to A. L. Smith, K.C., the Malden firm's lawyer.

DOUBLE DIFFICULTY

The lawyer, however, found his clients had been placed in a peculiar position due to the present money tangle. It was discovered that the gold could not be exported from Canada unless a special licence was obtained from the Dominion Government, and it was doubtful if American money could be obtained for it when it arrived in the United States, at present resting in a bank holiday and a gold embargo.

U.S. TO OPERATE ON SCRIP BASIS UNTIL CRISIS SURMOUNTED

state or other order prior to the Roosevelt proclamation.

SIX FUNCTIONS PERMITTED

Secretary Woodin late in the day announced his six banking functions permitted under the banking holiday, as follows:

Handling of drafts for shipments, transportation and delivery of foodstuffs.

Free access of customers to safety deposit vaults.

Making change, but without paying out either gold or gold certificates.

Cashing cheques drawn on the Treasurer of the United States, but not in gold or gold certificates.

Returning without restriction all cash, cheques, etc., received for deposit or collection after the last closing of business hours and not then entered on the books.

Accepting in cash or otherwise payments on account of notes or other obligations due the banks.

ASSURE PAYROLLS

This six-point programme was to assure that payrolls would be met and that food would be available everywhere.

Up on Capitol Hill congressional leaders united behind the drastic Roosevelt move and announced his emergency action would be given full legislative sanction quickly after Congress meets in special session Thursday at noon. The banking holiday ends that night.

After ratifying the emergency step and the clearing house scrip about to be employed throughout the country, it is likely Congress will wait for a period to act on a more complete and comprehensive banking reform programme.

Laying his action before a conference of state governors meeting at the White House early today, Mr. Roosevelt heard words of support from the state executives. They drafted a resolution to back him.

IS ENFORCING DECREE

Innumerable complexities developed on phases of operation of the sweeping bank holiday proclamation and these went in endless parade to the Secretary of the Treasury, who has been made the field marshal by Mr. Roosevelt in enforcing his decree.

"There will be mediums of exchange to care for all necessary things," assured the weary but smiling Secretary Woodin. "We hope to have everything tonight."

Because of the need for haste it was decided to put the clearing house certificates on a local basis, rather than try for a national issue.

CONFIDENCE MAIN OBJECTIVE

Pointing out that national powers are almost unlimited by the proclamation, Mr. Woodin indicated it was the hope of the Government to open up the banking situation just as easily as safety and necessity required. Apparently the new administration is inclined to the belief it is best to reopen the institutions as their own soundness permits. Restoration of confidence is the main objective.

There appears no doubt Mr. Roosevelt contemplates substantial action soon to carry out his inaugural pledge of restrictions on speculation.

GERMAN ELECTORS RETURN HITLER BY DECISIVE MARGIN

the premiership of Prussia, but probably will become Foreign Minister, succeeding Baron Konstantin von Neurath, whose health is precarious, and who frequently has expressed a desire to terminate his service as quickly as possible. If the Chancellor decided to keep himself free from other duties, he may appoint Hermann Goering, now minister without portfolio, to the Prussian premiership.

Some of the Chancellor's friends have urged that he take over the task of representing Germany at Geneva, but it was understood that, at a conference this afternoon, presided over by Hitler, it was decided the domestic situation needs his undivided attention.

HOPE FOR DOMESTIC PEACE

While continuing his merciless fight on Communism through Captain Goering, the Chancellor is understood to be anxious to bring about the domestic pacification of the German people as quickly as possible. To a friend he said that ideas must be met by ideas, and therefore, he is determined to inculcate the ideals of his Nazi movement in those who hitherto have voted Communist.

With 5,000 Communist leaders taken in custody, Hitler now has a real chance of getting at the soul of the Leftist worker, one of those close to him asserted.

The Nazi swastika emblem was hoisted today on one of the four flagpoles of the Reichstag, but it was removed by order of the house inspector. Many German cities reported that the Nazi, or the Imperial colors, or both, had been hoisted on scores of public buildings.

RESIGNATION DEMANDED

At Karlsruhe, Nazis demanded the immediate resignation of the Baden Government, in view of yesterday's balloting, and the appointment of a Hitlerite to head a new administration.

The Freiheitskampf, Nazi organ at Dresden, said the result of the election meant the death sentence of the Saxon Diet.

"We expect it either to dissolve voluntarily and the Government to resign or, if not, we expect the Reich to take immediate action," the paper said.

At Bergheim, near Cologne, seven Communists were arrested on suspicion of setting fire to a glass factory, and shooting at the night watchman. The fire was accompanied by explosions, but was soon controlled. Four persons were arrested for setting fire to the home of a Protestant clergyman at Zieverich, near Bergheim.

equality, if and when acquired, to nullify the Treaty of Versailles.

Deliberations at subsequent conference, however, have watered the proposed affirmation down so much as, it is felt here, to lose its original meaning.

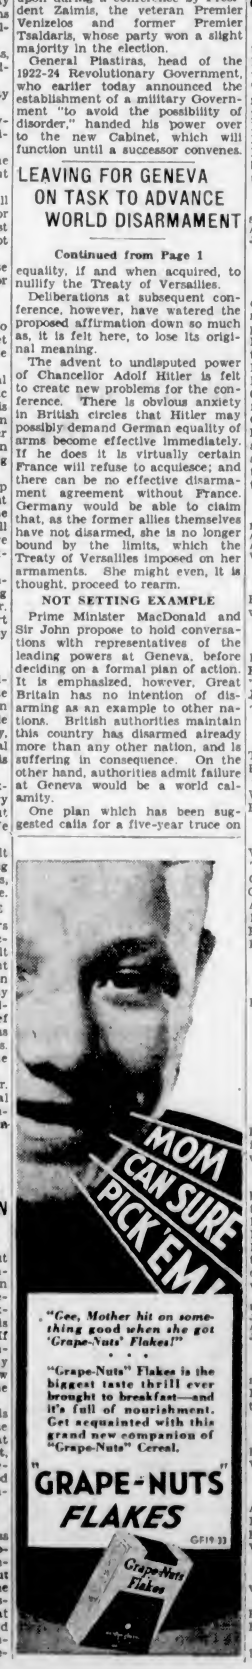

The advent to undisputed power of Chancellor Adolf Hitler is felt to create new problems for the conference. There is obvious anxiety in British circles that Hitler may possibly demand German equality of arms become effective immediately. If he does it is virtually certain France will refuse to acquiesce; and there can be no effective disarmament agreement without France. Germany would be able to claim that, as the former allies themselves have not disarmed, she is no longer bound by the limits, which the Treaty of Versailles imposed on her armaments. She might even, it is thought, proceed to rearm.

NOT SETTING EXAMPLE

Prime Minister MacDonald and Sir John propose to hold conversations with representatives of the leading powers at Geneva, before deciding on a formal plan of action. It is emphasized, however, Great Britain has no intention of disarming as an example to other nations. British authorities maintain this country has disarmed already more than any other nation, and is suffering in consequence. On the other hand, authorities admit failure at Geneva would be a world calamity.

One plan which has been suggested calls for a five-year truce on armament increases, with additional affirmation not to resort to force as a means of settling disputes.

Sir John told the House of Commons today that, unless other countries show willingness to declare embargoes on arms shipments to China and Japan, the United Kingdom may be forced to re-examine her position in that regard.

wounded man sent to the Jubilee Hospital in the C. & C. ambulance. Mrs. Lovatt, who had fainted, also was sent to the hospital.

FIND TWO GUNS

Police found two guns in the house, a revolver and a shotgun. Four shots had been fired, they learned, two from the revolver and two from the shotgun. Both revolver bullets were imbedded in the walls. One of the shotgun discharges sprayed the walls of the home, while the second discharge pierced Coulson's hand and side, police reported.

Police also were informed that Lovatt had planned to go to the Mainland, but instead had remained at home. When Mrs. Lovatt and Coulson entered the house, an argument is alleged to have ensued, followed by the shooting, P. J. Sinnott, counsel for the accused, said.

There is some discrepancy in the story of the shooting, nothing definite having been established yet as to who fired the first shot. Police stated Coulson denied having fired the revolver.

Lovatt is well known in Victoria business circles. He is an accountant and traveling business investigator. He also was prominent in athletic circles, and at one time was lightweight wrestling champion of Canada. Latterly he had been conducting a wrestling class in the city. Coulson is a tugboat man.

Simultaneously the loss of Jehol has deprived the Chinese of a base of supplies and reinforcements for the irregular warfare in Manchuria.

FEAR REVIVED

Having at last gained possession of the passes into Chihli Plain, the Japanese now are in a favorable position to descend on North China at will. The invasion of Jehol has revived among Chinese here the fear that the Japanese may advance to the Yellow River when the occasion offers.

FORCE WIPED OUT

CHINCHOW, Manchuria, March 6 (AP).—A force of 700 Chinese was wiped out yesterday, Japanese headquarters announced this afternoon, in an engagement near Welchang, fifty-five miles southwest of Chihfeng. The Japanese lost ten dead and twenty-nine wounded.

Other dispatches reaching here from Jehol indicated that all the passes through the Great Wall of China had fallen into Japanese hands except that at Koupeikow, which had been left open intentionally as an exit from Jehol for the remnants of the Chinese Army.

EMPLOYMENT IMPROVING

LONDON, March 6 (CP).—Employment in the United Kingdom is picking up, Government statistics show. Between January 23 and February 20 the number of registered unemployed dropped 46,427. During the same period the number of totally unemployed fell 39,000.

Bronchial Trouble

Guelph, Ont.—"My second oldest boy, Kitchener, has been a chronic sufferer from bronchitis. He seemed to choke up so and coughed very frequently. He did not rest well at night and was so run-down," said Mrs. H. Carter of 94 Alice St. "We gave him two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and it gave him excellent relief from the bronchial trouble — helped to relieve the cough, increased his appetite and built him up and he rested better at night."

A bedtime story

LISTEN, my children, and you shall hear . . . not of the midnight ride of Paul Revere, but of the midnight run of John Smith. Poor, tired John! Often he was rudely ejected from his realm of rest to answer the telephone . . . away downstairs. It was a long, cold trip, and John, the martyr, generally managed to bump his head or a foot during the mad scramble.

But things are different now. John has an extension telephone beside his bed, and it's so easy to reach out and answer it. "This is the life," says John.

HIGH RECORD REACHED IN WORK DRIVE

Promises of Citizens Now Represent Total Expenditure of $140,000

NORTH SAANICH HAS ENTERED CAMPAIGN

Yesterday was a record one for the Emergency Employment campaigners. The total pledges had last evening reached $140,000, jumping from $100,000 at the close of last week. The workers, as a result of yesterday's efforts, are feeling very elated.

Work has been started in connection with one of the first pledges received by the sponsors of the Emergency Employment Campaign. The owners of a property in the downtown section are remodeling and cleaning up the front of their building.

In surveying this building, before starting the work, it was observed that the main cause of the dirty appearance of the exterior was the existence of cornices and numerous other more or less ornamental projections on the face of the front wall. Dust, dirt and smoke have collected on the horizontal upper surface of these projections, and the rain has washed this down on to the walls, thus giving the front of the building a smeary appearance. To obviate this in the future, the owners plan to remove most of the projections from the face of the building and, where this cannot be done, to bevel the upper edge so that dirt will not lodge. This information may be valuable to other owners who contemplate cleaning the front of their buildings.

NORTH SAANICH ACTS

North Saanich has decided to enter heartily into the Emergency Employment Campaign, and has organized locally for this undertaking. The residents of the district at a meeting held in Sidney, determined that the matter should be taken hold of in real earnest, and have organized for that purpose.

At the meeting, G. A. Agnew was appointed to act as captain of what will be known as the "North Saanich Division." D. Snarling was named as secretary of the campaign.

Volunteers were enlisted at once to take charge of the canvass. These consist of H. J. McIntyre, publisher of The Review; Major A. D. Macdonald, president of the North Saanich Board of Trade; G. H. Walton, of the Sidney Sawmill Company; A. S. Warrender, manager of the Bank of Montreal; Rev. T. M. Hughes, representing the Anglican Church; Rev. Thomas Keyworth, representing the United Church; E. M. Straight, of the Experimental Farm; George A. Cochrane; Major J. R. Sparks, Deep Cove; A. W. Holland, O. J. Rochefort, West Saanich; H. A. Shepard, manager, Rest Haven Sanitorium; P. D. Ahier, H. ## Many Attend Funeral of Respected Citizen at St. Mary's Church

Funeral services for the late James E. B. Dickson, who at the time of his sudden death last Thursday afternoon was district manager for Burns & Co., Ltd., here, were held yesterday afternoon at St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, and attended by a large number of friends and business acquaintances, who gathered at the church to pay their last respects to one of Victoria's best-known and respected citizens.

The service at the church commenced at 3:15 o'clock, with Rev. Canon A. E. deL. Nunns officiating. Two hymns were sung, "Jesu, Lover of My Soul" and "The King of Love My Shepherd Is, Whose Goodness Faileth Never." Canon Nunns recited from Psalm xxiii, and offered prayers for the comfort of the members of the family, after which the cortege proceeded to Royal Oak Burial Park, where interment took place.

MANY FLORAL TRIBUTES

The late Mr. Dickson, during his association with Burns & Co., Ltd., made a host of friends in the city, and the number of floral tributes and the large attendance at the service bore testimony to the esteem in which he was held. Included among the congregation at the church were representatives of professional and business men of Victoria and Oak Bay.

Employees of Burns & Company, Victoria, and W. J. Blake Wilson and R. Brassill, of the Vancouver store staff, were present, and the proprietors of the local meat markets attended in a body.

The pallbearers were H. A. Humber, A. Watson, J. H. Taylor, R. B. Wilson, W. Brookman and F. E. Winslow.

POSTAL UNION IS UNIVERSAL BODY

George H. Gardiner, Victoria Postmaster, Addresses Gyro Club at Luncheon

Conditions under which the Universal Postal Union operates to maintain mail rates among countries comprising its membership, were explained to the Gyro Club, yesterday, by George H. Gardiner, postmaster of Victoria.

Speaking of the postal system and the universal union, Mr. Gardiner stated that practically every human being uses it, while there are few who understand it. He dealt with the development of the postal system, giving a Biblical reference to indicate its use in earlier times, and showed how it had grown to universal use, with leading countries of the world interested.

MANY COMPLICATIONS

Formerly there had been many complications involved in the transition of mail through various countries while proceeding from one city to another country, Mr. Gardiner said. This situation was partly remedied at a conference in Paris in 1863, when rates were reduced and certain regulations were introduced regarding transit in the intermediary countries.

In September, 1874, however, a conference was called at Berne, Switzerland, where thirty-six delegates, representing twenty-two countries, assembled to deal with the postal situation. This gathering marked the beginning of developments, the biggest accomplishment being the establishment of a single postal territory, brought about by the evident desire for a universal agreement. It was here that members of the union guaranteed freedom of transit to mails from other members, and it was set out that the cost of transit should be borne by the country of origin.

CONGRESSES HELD

Mr. Gardiner explained that since this date, congresses have been held every five years to make necessary amendments to rates and deal with other matters of universal interest to the members. The last of these gatherings was held in 1929, he said, and the next was slated for 1934, at Cairo, prior to which a meeting of sixteen delegates will he held at Ottawa to prepare the agenda.

The speaker explained that it was possible for members of the universal union to form a separate union among themselves, citing for an example, the agreements which exist between Dominions of the British Empire, and between America and Spain.

RESERVES DECISION IN COLLISION CASE

Following a lenghty hearing of a charge of driving his automobile to the common danger, Dr. V. B. Taylor was remanded until next Thursday morning, when Magistrate Jay will give decision.

Dr. Taylor was charged following an accident in Beacon Hill Park, in February, when his auto was in collision with another. He claimed to have the right of way over the other auto, which was approaching from the left. Before reserving his decision, the magistrate commented that it might be safer if there were no right of way rule sometimes. He said he considered it productive of some accidents on the highways.

H. W. Davey appeared for Dr. Taylor, and C. L. Harrison conducted the case for the prosecution.

PORT RENFREW TRAIL FAVORED

Federal Members Will Be Asked to Secure Approval of Dominion to Plan

There is every prospect that the request made for the continuation of a trail to Port Renfrew will be carried to fruition. J. H. Beatty, M.P.P., who was appointed by the Chamber of Commerce to take this matter up with the Provincial Government, reported at yesterday's meeting of the directors that he had seen the Government. Hon. R. H. Pooley, Attorney-General, in whose constituency the trail would be, was very favorable to the proposal, said Mr. Beatty.

The latter said that the approval of the Dominion would be necessary in the matter, and it was suggested by Mr. Beatty that D. B. Plunkett, M.P. for Victoria, and C. H. Dickie, M.P., be communicated with, having in view the obtaining of this approval.

The idea behind the move is to afford a means of communication with Port Renfrew by way of a trail, until such time as the work of constructing the road is carried out.

On motion of J. O. Cameron, it was decided to take the advice of Mr. Beatty, and have communications sent to Messrs. Plunkett and Dickie.

SPEAKS AGAINST APPEAL TO WAR

Rev. Dr. G. B. Switzer was the speaker of the Ministerial Association yesterday. His subject, "This War and Peace Issue," was dealt with by the speaker along similar lines to that which he has taken in a number of addresses given on this subject.

Dr. Switzer served in the war, and his attitude towards recourse to arms as a medium of settling international disputes is decidedly against such a move. He showed the futility of appealing to bloodshed in order to reach the objects sought.

Darling—"And what's your lecture about, old thing?"

ADVOCATES B.C. RAIL BUILDING

Col. Nelson Spencer Would Complete P.G.E. to Finlay Forks

Completion of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway from Quesnel to Finlay Forks as a Provincial undertaking, through use of available labor and the issue of land scrip for areas along the line, was advocated in the British Columbia Legislature, yesterday, by Colonel Nelson Spencer (Conservative, Vancouver). Thomas Uphill (Labor, Fernie) followed, and Hon. William Atkinson adjourned the debate on the Address now entering its second week.

Alternately refreshed by glasses of milk and water, Mr. Uphill treated the House to a gentle lecture on the frailties of humanity, enlightened by flashes of wit that softened some hard verbal blows. Routine progress on bills completed a typical Monday sitting, before the House adjourned until 3 p.m. today.

MINERS HARD HIT

But 300 miners were on partial work in the Fernie area where four years ago 1,800 had had full time employment, Mr. Uphill told the House. It was a question of using British Columbia coal or keeping British Columbia miners on relief, and outside importation of coal did not help matters. Some collieries might be overcapitalized, but discounting that, no British Columbia coal could be produced to compete with British coal laid down on the Coast for, $3 a ton or less, he averred. It was illogical to believe that Ontario would pay $6.75 per ton freight for the privilege of using Western Canadian fuel, and no amount of "hoey" would change that, he said.

As leader of the Labor Party in the House, Mr. Uphill served notice that deserters from the Government side would not be absorbed by his party, which was inclined to be picky and choosy about such matters. The current session, he averred, would be known as the "Session of Confessions and Repentances," with more than fifty-seven varieties of politics in evidence.

BRITAIN LEADING

Britain, in a relatively tiny area, was making a better job of maintaining 44,000,000 persons than Canada with its 9,000,000 persons, and wonderful, but static resources. Canadian corporations, he charged, were laying men off, lowering wages, demanding longer hours of work for the sake of dividend payments.

Carpenters were at work on the new Craigflower bridge at $3.50 per day, laborers at $2.80 and a night-watchman at $2.80. Girls, in some of the larger stores, were receiving insufficient to clothe and feed themselves. Boys and girls coming from school could not find work, and thousands were riding freight trains across the country, with crime growing in juvenile ranks. There was absolute want in the midst of plenty.

"AN IMBECILE AGE"

Mr. Uphill invited the Government to drop every other consideration, and devote its entire attention to unemployment and its solution. The United States, reckoned the richest country, had a general bank holiday, and Canada would experience the same degree of stress unless some cure for the general disease of unemployment were found. Next Winter, he averred, would be worse again, and people were tired of hearing of a recovery that did not come. It was "an imbecile age," and depression could not be cured by the means that produced it, he concluded.

Colonel Nelson Spencer censured the press for attacking governments, which he said had no more to do with responsibility for the present conditions than the churches. Canada could point with pride to the fact that it was in the soundest monetary position today. If sufficient foresight had not been used, it was the fault of citizens and industries as much as other agencies. Banks and railways had been as extravagant as any, and the march of progress was always attended by some waste.

"INFLATION OF LABOR"

To his mind it was futile to talk of markets abroad, when there was no money abroad to make purchases. Canada should develop her own resources, and remove the shame of hunger in a land of plenty. There was no such thing as overproduction or under consumption, but what had gone wrong was distribution.

He wished to see "inflation of labor," and the distribution of wealth in wages, so that all born in the country would have a chance to earn a living wage. Parties had produced the only real statesmen Canada had known, and coalition ministries were only a last and desperate resort, to be avoided unless no other means were open.

"PAY DOMINION'S DEBT

Colonel Spencer advocated "distribution of available work among the workers available," shorter hours and living wages irrespective of the hours worked. He was against further public borrowings or general rail extension, and said there was enough wealth stored in the hills of the Cariboo to pay the Dominion public debt. He referred briefly to the banking holiday in the United States, and said he hoped Canada and her Southern neighbor would come together on a solution of economic ills on this continent. The best unemployment insurance would be jobs for men at living wages, and the distribution of wealth in wages, he averred.

In conclusion, the member for Vancouver advocated completion of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway as a Provincial undertaking, from Quesnel to Finlay Forks, if some means could be found by the Province of using available labor at low rates, and giving land scrip to insure settlement along the route after the work was over.

MANY ATTENDED FUNERAL

The funeral of Miss Mabel Miles, of 537 Victoria Avenue, was held Monday afternoon at Christ Church Cathedral in the presence of an unusually large number of sympathizing friends. Many beautiful floral tributes were received, testifying to the high esteem in which the late Miss Miles was held. Rev. Canon A. E. deL. Nunns conducted an impressive service. The following acted as pallbearers: B. Forbes, J. N. Bell, W. R. Preethy, W. R. Day, J. C. Slater and T. F. Cloverdale. Interment was in the Royal Oak Burial Park.

ARRIVES IN CITY ON BRIEF LEAVE

Fred Knight Here on Short Furlough From Naval Base Project at Singapore

Fred Knight, formerly of this city, and for the past four years superintendent of mechanical construction for Sir John Jackson, Ltd., on the big naval base contract at Seletar, Singapore, returned to the city yesterday on furlough. He was joined here by Mrs. Knight, who preceded him, and will spend the next few weeks with relatives in this city.

Mr. Knight was a passenger on the Ss. Empress of Russia, docking here early yesterday morning, having joined the vessel at Hongkong. Accompanied by Mrs. Knight, he will leave in about six weeks' time, for Singapore, at the completion of a brief furlough.

Mr. Knight was identified with the Sir John Jackson Company prior to construction of the Ogden Point breakwater, and served here with the company on that undertaking. Later he represented British Columbia firms supplying logging and other machinery, being well known on the Coast in that connection. He declined to discuss the nature of the work at the naval base, but said satisfactory progress was being made on the huge undertaking.

HITLERISM CONFIRMED

Herr Adolf Hitler, in the latest Reichstag and Prussian Diet elections, has secured a sufficient following for his Nazis to establish a Fascist regime in Germany. With the aid of the Nationalists he will have a majority in the Reichstag. It is perhaps the language of exaggeration to say that he will wipe out "democracy." After all, the factual definition of democracy is that the majority shall rule. Herr Hitler is now supported by the majority of elected representatives to the Reichstag so that he is confirmed in power by virtue of the manner in which democracy expresses itself.

The accession to the political strength of the Nazis, as exemplified in Sunday's poll, is the outstanding feature of the election. Their popular vote has increased from 11,750,000 in November last to upwards of 17,000,000. Their representation in the Reichstag has grown from 195 to 288. Evidently Germany has definitely turned to Nazism as a way out of its present difficulties. The Socialist vote has declined slightly; that of the Communists has gained. The Centrist and the Bavarian People's Parties have maintained their strength. Her Hitler can command the support of at least 340 members of the Reichstag out of a total membership of 647. It is possible that his strength in divisions may be considerable, because there will arise the question of allowing Communist members to sit in the chamber.

The Nazi S.A. (Brown Army), and the Nationalist Stahlheim (ex-soldiers' league) are now operating as auxiliary police. They policed election meetings in the late campaign. Communist demonstrations are now forbidden. Drastic measures are expected without delay now that Herr Hitler is so substantially confirmed in power. One of these will be the expatriation of all Poles who have been working in the Westphalian mines. Wherein the belief exists that democracy is challenged by the Hitler triumph in the election is the possibility that Parliamentary government may be suspended and a national emergency declared. That, presumably, will depend on the conduct of the Reichstag towards the Hitler regime. Since the Chancellor commands a majority, the suspension of Parliamentary government may be unnecessary.

From the international standpoint, outstanding facts are that Hitlerism is in the saddle; that something resembling the Fascist rule in Italy is likely to be established in Germany, and that the new Government is determined to wipe out the Treaty of Versailles. A period of Matchpolitik appears to impend. What effect it will have on international relationships is difficult to foresee. For the time being, however, Germany has a great preoccupation in righting her internal troubles. In this respect, the extent to which Herr Hitler is able to follow the practises of Signor Mussolini may determine the measure of his success in office.

BRITAIN'S TRADE

January returns of the British Board of Trade give an excellent bird's eye view of the results of the tariff policy which was put into effect a year ago. That policy set out to redress an adverse balance of trade which was weighing heavily on the finances of the country. It has accomplished a very great deal in that regard. There has been a substantial reduction of imports to Britain. In 1932, compared with 1931, Britain's purchases from France fell from nearly £41,000,000 to £19,000,000. The decrease was greater in the case of Germany. In 1931 Britain bought goods to the value of £64,000,000 from that country and last year just under £30,500,000. Britain imports from the United States fell by £20,500,000 to £83,500,000, and Belgium's exports to Britain, which were £33,000,000 in 1931, have been more than halved. Imports to Britain from Free State Ireland were reduced from £36,500,000 to £26,500,000.

It is true that Britain in her trade with foreign countries has shown certain decreases. The United States in 1932 took only £15,098,000 of her exports as against £18,245,000 in 1931. Germany took £14,580,000 as against £18,411,000, and Denmark £9,860,000 against £8,656,000. On the other hand, many parts of the British Empire showed notable increases in their trade with Britain. The most important of these were:

| | £ 1932 | £ 1932 |
|---|---|---|
| Canada | 32,840,000 | 43,145,000 |
| Australia | 45,679,000 | 46,192,000 |
| South Africa | 13,120,000 | 15,529,000 |
| Sudan | 977,000 | 2,835,000 |
| Jamaica | 2,414,000 | 2,961,000 |
| British Guiana | 577,000 | 1,093,000 |
| Mauritius | 1,683,000 | 2,160,000 |

SCIENCE AND GOVERNMENT

There are no conclusive arguments that have been put forward in the extravagant claims made by individuals demanding for scientists a supreme position of power in government. The probability is that such a dispensation would lead to a more emphatic age of mechanization than any yet experienced. There is, of course, no doubt of the value of a greater cultivation of science and its better application towards making for a fuller civilization. The claim, however, that scientists would make the best politicians is not upheld by the general body of men of science. Such men would be invaluable in schemes of a technical character. Their place in this regard has been recognized. It is quite another matter to suggest that all government should be confined to scientists. It could not be, for the simple reason that such a dispensation would never be approved by popular vote.

The task of government is varied and complicated. Men of science rarely wish to take part in the administrative duties connected with politics because the work upon which they are engaged is too narrow and too highly specialized. Any man of science who wished to fit himself for government would have to undergo a special course of training much more liberal than any in which he had previously engaged. There are scientists who have cultivated a rich humanity, who have formed their minds to take a wide view and with well-balanced judgments. Of such, politicians can be made. There are many scientists who are not politicians and could not be developed into such. They would, if they were the sole participants in administration, stunt governmental activities and make them automatic.

AMERICA'S PANACEAS

Mr. Ralph West Robey, the Financial Editor of The New York Evening Post, has contributed to Current History a survey of the factors responsible for the present economic conditions in the United States. He points out that the people of that country saw in the stock market collapse of 1930 nothing serious. They regarded business as still fundamentally sound. They did not curtail expenditures. They were encouraged to spend money. The period of Coueism lasted well into 1931. In that year the public began to realize that the depression was more than a temporary flurry. They still believed, however, in a speedy return to the 1929 level. Then panaceas became the order of the day. There was first the Hoover Moratorium, followed by the National Credit Corporation; then came the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and the Glass-Steagall Act.

The expansion anticipated did not materialize. The adoption of the Federal Reserve System of an easy money policy through the purchase of Government bonds did not bring about the result anticipated. The total purchases were $1,100,000,000. These were expected to result in a credit expansion of $11,000,000,000. Today the Reserve Banks are faced with an embarrassing problem of what to do with Government bonds. In other words, the panaceas of the last few years have proved unavailing to lift the United States from its financial morass. In alluding to the task before the new executive which came into being at Washington on March 4, Mr. Robey says:

"If it is wise it will study with care the record of the last four years. If it does, one great fact will stand out in clear relief—that the basis for optimism today is found almost entirely in those sections of the economic system which the Government has not 'saved,' and, conversely, that the greatest cause for anxiety is now found in those fields of activity which have been the heaviest recipients of Federal aid."

A SERMON IN VERSE

Don't be snappy—just be happy and console the other chappie
When he's freeting and is getting very blue;
Though you're weary don't be dreary—it's far wiser to be cheery—
If you're lonely it's the only thing to do.

Keep on smiling, stop reviling, and things won't be half so riling—
Wrongs are banished, quickly vanished, by a song;
Cares go winging while you're singing, and there's nothing done by clinging
To your groaning and bemoaning all day long!

If you mumble and you grumble, everything becomes a jumble.
You are muddled and befuddled all the time;
Life is ever an endeavor, so if you are really clever
Do not quarrel with the moral of my rhyme.

—Mollie Mackay, in Pearson's Weekly.

JOY IN ALL

I cherish broken, sweet, abortive things:
November's dying prelude, mistwreathed moon,
New trodden violets, fallen fledglings' wings,
The crinkling leaves of beech—the winter's boon—
And the first hint of autumn in the red
Seed pods of maples, drooping in blue-green.
And so I love the tulips as they spread—
Wanton Cleoptras—petals earlier seen
In flawless amber, glistening like a shell;
And if I love chill April's rainy dawn,
It is because my ravished heart knows well
That in full-tide abundance I am drawn
To count again with yearning sense of pain
All that first beauty I shall want again.

—Grace Warren Landrum, in The New York Times.

Kindness is wisdom.—Bailey.

Note and Comment

By R. H. D.

Oh, sad vicissitude
Of earthly things! to what untimely end
Are all the fading glories that attend
Upon the state of greatest monarchs brought!
What safety can by policy be wrought
Or rest be found on fortune's restless wheel!

—May.

We are told that when the body is sick, the wise thing to do is to call in a physician. The body politic is sick, and a physician has prescribed for its ailment without the usual formality of being called in. The family doctor of the Legislature of British Columbia (a very sick body) who probably has been diagnosing the case for some time, has told the members of the Government and the leaders of the Opposition what must be done in order to keep life in the sick body politic. If we were strict in our views regarding professional etiquette, we might be justified in saying that Dr. Gillis has been guilty of unprofessional conduct; for other doctors have been treating the poor patient for months, and it is not considered good professional form for one doctor to butt into another doctor's "practice."

The regular family physicians of the province have diagnosed the case of the sick body politic, and have decided that the troubles of the patient are all due to the fact that he has been living too high. In the case of a private person, the case would be described as one of riotous living. Therefore the cure can be effected only by reducing the cost of living, or, in other words, balancing the budget. Dr. Gillis says that is all wrong; that it is a mistake to reduce expenses, for that only aggravates the disease; don't reduce salaries, for if you reduce salaries and the cost of government there will be less money for the people to spend, and there will be hard times.

If the economic principles (which are not altogether new, for they have been expounded by other doctrinaires) of the good physician are sound, why not carry them to their logical conclusion? Why not increase salaries and expenses and everything, give the people all the money they want to spend, and thus create abounding and expanding prosperity? Why not carry the principles thus expounded farther and by legislative decree declare that private business shall not reduce salaries and expenses, but rather shall increase salaries and expenses, and thus join with governments in the production of prosperity? Then if money becomes scarce and hard to find in order to keep the orgy going, why not make money by resort to the printing press? They are doing that in some countries from which visionaries like Dr. Gillis derive their inspiration, and already there are indications of the nature of the harvest which is about to be gathered.

The peculiar theory of the legislative physician may be explained in the now common and in some quarters popular term inflation. In the United States there has been a wave of inflation, which is being followed by a term of deflation—and very drastic deflation at that. The Government of the United States has found out that in the matter of administration it must reduce expenses. The lame and the live ducks of the Congress which has just passed into the realm of oblivion were opposed to deflation. They have voted billions of dollars in the relief or the hope that they could avoid the necessity of deflation. Some of them seem even to have believed that by voting billions of dollars to be applied to the businesses of various organizations they could further inflate the balloon which was about to burst.

Even the members of the new Congress could not trust themselves to do what they knew in their hearts should be done, because they feared the wrath of their constituents. So they proposed that the new President should be endowed with the powers usually associated with a dictatorship. They said: "We cannot do it. Let Roosevelt do it." The case of the Government of the United States is very grave compared with the cases of the Governments of Canada. Our circumstances are difficult enough, but they are not so serious that our banks have had to be closed to avert disastrous drafts upon their funds and a national financial panic.

* * *

Governments, like individuals, must economize. They cannot evade the consequences of extravagance by indulging in further orgies of extravagance. They cannot promote prosperity by borrowing money and squandering it in unnecessary public works or in subventions to doubtful private enterprises. That is the situation, and it must be hammered into the heads of the quacks who are assailing governments in one breath to reduce taxation and in the next breath making demands upon governments for increased contributions to all sorts of things and declaring that the way to prosperity lies in maintaining the scales of salaries and the standard rates of wages. But of course you cannot reason with the high priests of democracy, who consider the public purse is bottomless—like the wallet of Fortunatus.

PACIFISM

Sir,—Rev. Mr. Jull has succeeded admirably in condensing the whole philosophy of the armament firms and their henchmen in his phrase "Die for Dividends." Die for dividends is the plain, unvarnished interpretation of such old and familiar phrases as "We Must Be Prepared," "To Preserve Peace, Prepare for War," and all the rest of them.

The Oxford Union by passing, with an overwhelming majority, its resolution "that this House will in no circumstances fight for king and country," has set a great and enlightening example. Of course we shall be told that the Oxford Union is unpatriotic, disloyal, misguided, merely foolish, and so on, but the plain fact is that the undergraduates of Oxford at least intend no longer to be duped by the propaganda of the war-mongers, and have no inclination, in the future, to be pawns in the game.

We shall be told, too, that such a resolution could not logically be carried into effect in case of aggression by another power. But the fact is that never yet has there been one of these expensive wars (and therefore profitable to someone!) which would not have been averted had statesmen and leaders known that the man in the street would decline to commit murder though their rulers signed a thousand declarations of war. Just as soon as kaisers and kings, presidents and premiers, realize that if they want war they will have to do the fighting themselves, we shall get peace on earth. When the men who sign the declarations know that on laying down the pen they will have to pick up the sword, and they alone, it is just possible that at the last minute they may discover a way out after all without killing and maiming themselves.

W. D. SMITH.

"Cragside," Langford Lake, B.C., March 5, 1933.

"CAUSALITY"

Sir,—Your editorial of today's date, obviously intended as a reply to my letter on "Causality," reminds me of a jest of my logic tutor, Lewis Carroll. "I don't understand you," said Alice. "It's dreadfully confusing!" "That's the effect of living backwards," said the Queen kindly; "it always makes one a little giddy at first." Incidentally I notice that your reply contains 735 words, thus conflicting with your contention that 500 words is ample, and in spite of this it fails to affect the proof I gave that the case against causality is based on faulty premises and fallacious conclusions. I also note that The Colonist has been in strange company lately, leaning on Socialist Cole in economics and Agnostic Joad in metaphysics, no doubt the result of over indulgence at "the 48-hour day" contest. Naturally, since you wish to see the scientific method of tackling problems restricted to as narrow limits as possible, you have welcomed the view that unpredictability not only implies the breakdown of the principle of causality, but leaves an opening for miracles, psychic intervention, and the like. But as J. B. S. Haldane shows, "the facts which Eddington brings forward in support of indeterminism furnish at least equally good arguments for materialism. The main objection to materialism was that organisms have a unity which is very hard to explain, if they are made of atoms outside one another in space, and influencing one another only, as do the moving parts in a machine.

But now we find that we cannot with certainty pin down an atom to a definite position in space. Matter—that is to say things which exist—remain as real as ever; but we cannot describe atoms in terms of space and time. Things are not entirely outside one another, particularly when we get down to atomic dimensions. There is nothing mythical in this. It can be expressed in quantitative terms, and it enables us to predict future events with increased accuracy, and explains the appearance of new properties as the result of chemical change. Materialism has become vastly more plausible in the last ten years. The objections to it such as are made by Sir Arthur Eddington and my father (J. S. Haldane) are based on a misconception of the meaning of the term. If materialism means that you can describe the world in terms of matter, as envisaged by Galileo, it is obviously false.

Science is not bound by the views of even its greatest men; only the church is committed to worship of the Word. Now philosophers are sometimes sure about the properties of matter, and mathematicians reason as if they were so. An experimental scientist is never sure. But this attitude is most unsatisfactory to a teacher; so at any moment there exists a body of rather out-of-date science taught to the young. My father rightly insisting that life cannot be explained in terms of the physics, which he learned in his youth, seems to jump to the conclusion that it cannot be explained in terms of physics at all. Actually, the physicists are now engaged in stating the idea of wholeness in precise mathematical terms. Doubtless some people take the old-style physics too seriously. In so far as that is so, they are fair game for Eddington and my father. But the most hide-bound believer in the nineteenth century mechanistic materialism is some 1,500 years nearer to the truth than a believer in the Apostle's Creed. And if science continues to fulfill its function of enabling man to predict or control events, it will never return to a world-view, which failed in both these respects."

I am afraid this is the legal limit —"and so to bed."

ACCORDING TO PROPHECY

Sir,—In a letter by G. Holdcroft in today's issue, entitled "Lack of Confidence," there are several statements that provoke thought, and a few that need amplification. It is true, as he says, that "Jerusalem was to be trodden down of the Gentiles (nations) until the times of the Gentiles were fulfilled." The seven-times (2,520 years) charter of those nations' control of Jerusalem was completed in 1911-10, when General Allenby took possession of Palestine and that country came into the sphere of British rule.

This is definitely foretold in the prophecy of Obadiah, which Mr. Holdcroft and others could study with much profit, as it proves the identity of our Empire and answers his difficulty regarding the future of our civilization.

I fully agree with him that "there is no need to be down-hearted," as God's eternal purposes are being fulfilled in these days in such dramatic and startling clearness that every citizen of our country and of the Empire must surely ere long discover the apparent fact that a new order is imminent, wherein there will be no more depressions, no more poverty, but with our Lord Jesus Christ ruling upon the stone throne of David, a national prosperity that shall in due time be spread over the whole earth.

POLITICAL SUGGESTIONS

Sir,—Amplifying my apparently extremely popular suggestions published so kindly by you in yesterday's issue of The Colonist (proving many people do read the newspapers) let me first answer the pointed question: "Who are you bucking?" Obviously, neither you nor I can possibly back any person, or persons, at the present time, and the most surprised men in B.C. are the four gentlemen named in the original suggestion.

Good and sufficient notice in detail will be given to all aspirants for nomination to be subsequently elected as candidates for provincial honors at public meetings to be held simultaneously throughout the Province. These are the men or women I shall back.

Should any person or persons wish to oppose them, flying in the face of public choice and incurring election expense, such is their privilege.

It is not at all necessary that any aspirant be present at the meeting, unless it be to vote for himself or herself. Mum is the word, until after the canditates are elected. Just wait until this session is over.

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

By Ely Culbertson
World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

EXTRAORDINARY PLAY

Occasionally a hand is dealt at the contract table that seems to defy all principles of correct play as laid down in the textbooks and as exemplified by master players of the game. For instance, we have all mastered the principle of the finesse, which is a manoeuvre for position in order to limit or perhaps entirely eliminate losers in a certain suit. Of course, any manoeuvre for position in bridge involves the question of entries, and the tactics of play must be governed by the exigencies of the occasion. Thus, in playing a hand at a suit bid, if the opening lead reduces the security of our trump fortress by forcing a trump from the declaring hand, the player playing the combined hands may be forced to devise rather startling tactics to assure the safety of his contract.

An illustration of this occurred recently in an unusual deal in a duplicate game at Clockford's Club, New York, in which generally a game contract in spades was reached, but only one declarer, Mr. Huntington Norton, found a way to make the hand.

West, Dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.

The bidding:

| South | West | North | East |
|---|---|---|---|
| | 1♣ | Pass | 1NT |
| Pass | 2◇ | Pass | Pass |
| 3♡ | 2♠ | Pass | 3♠ |
| Pass | 4♠ | Pass | Pass |
| Pass | | | |

The bidding requires no special comment. While the spade suit is rather weak, the pattern of the West hand certainly requires a disclosure of all three suits, and when East supports the spade bid, the bid for game is quite obvious.

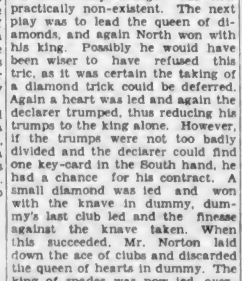

The opening lead was the heart three, upon which a small card was played from dummy, South played the ten, and Mr. Norton ruffed with the six. The contract looked extremely difficult, but the problem was attacked in an unusual manner. A large number of entries were needed in dummy if all the honors were to be finessed against, so the declarer rightly decided not to attempt all the finesses, but to conserve entries in his own right hand so that an end-play might be made if occasion arose.

The queen of clubs was laid down, and North won with the king and laid down another heart, which the declarer ruffed. He had definitely adopted the policy of conserving his trump length in the dummy, and his own trump strength was now practically non-existent. The next play was to lead the queen of diamonds, and again North won with his king. Possibly he would have been wiser to have refused this tric, as it was certain the taking of a diamond trick could be deferred. Again a heart was led and again the declarer trumped, thus reducing his trumps to the king alone. However, if the trumps were not too badly divided and the declarer could find one key-card in the South hand, he had a chance for his contract. A small diamond was led and won with the knave in dummy, dummy's last club led and the finesse against the knave taken. When this succeeded, Mr. Norton laid down the ace of clubs and discarded the queen of hearts in dummy. The king of spades was now led, overtaken with the ace, and a second round of spades led from the dummy. South was now definitely "on the spot." He could win this trick or refuse to win it, but in either event the success of the contract was assured.

TOMORROW'S HAND

The bidding and play of the hand printed below will be discussed tomorow:

The time used is Pacific standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of low water.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the new Esquimalt drydock add 20 feet to the height of high water as above given.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily British Colonist of March 7, 1883)

Fire in Town—A fire broke out yesterday in Turner's Livery Stable on Government Street. The blaze started at the back of the barn and is believed to have been caused by the stableman knocking out the ashes of his pipe. Considerable damage was done to the rear of the stable, but the flames were prevented from spreading by the good work of Engine Company No. 1.

Runaway Horse—A horse and buggy caused no little excitement on Douglas Street at high noon yesterday when, taking fright at something, the animal broke away from the driver and tore down the street. The left wheel collided with a cart and was smashed, and the horse was eventually brought to a stop.

Return Rugby Match—A return match between Commerce and School and Banks and Professions will take place shortly. Members of both teams are training hard for the encounter.

Church Meeting—Another of a series of temperance meetings will be held in the Methodist Church tomorrow and a splendid programme of music has been arranged. The speaker will be a well-known local man.

COLORING OF WALLS MAKES BIG CHANGE

The Correct Shade of Paper or Paint Will Work Wonders

By MARION ISABEL ANGUS

During the Emergency Employment Campaign, the householder who is anxious to assist and at the same time modernize his home would be well-advised to look to his walls. Walls make or mar a room, for attractive walls pay huge dividends in aesthetic delight as well as giving the house an up-to-date appearance, while dingy or old-fashioned walls depress the beholder and depreciate both residential and property values of a house.

Wallpapers are very interesting this Spring. The art moderne patterns, so popular a season or two ago, are decidedly out, and in keeping with the less-bolsterous atmosphere that is prevalent now, wallpapers are featuring subdued tones and unobtrusive designs.

For living-rooms, dining-rooms and halls, soft polychrome effects with smooth or embossed finish are popular. These papers come in all shades and colorings, but the warm shades, ranging from tans, through the woodsey colors, to yellow and ivory with self-tones or pastel mixtures, are most popular.

TAPESTRIES RETURNING

Panels are "out," but the new period designs with subdued patterns are good and something different. For dining-rooms and halls, the old tapestries designs are coming back. These designs are replicas of famous old tapestries and come in a wide range that will suit every taste. One of the features of the new designs and colorings is that the papers are guaranteed absolutely fadeless.

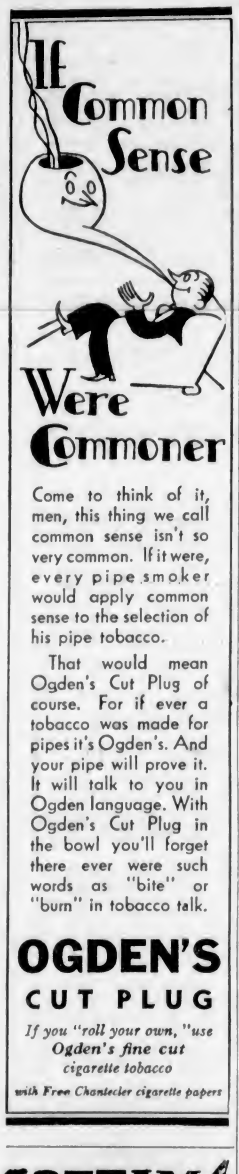

Bedroom wallpapers give scope for taste and artistic inclinations. One of the most attractive bedroom designs was a futuristic pattern in shades of blue, grey, silver, with a fleck for gold. For a south room this would be beautiful and would lend itself to furnishings of self or contrasting tones. This particular pattern comes in other colors as well as the blue.

Particularly delightful are the cheery floral patterns on an oyster shell background. This background has a decided silken finish, in appearance resembling a very fine silk poplin. The flowers are in bright, gay colors that appeal to the eye. Other good bedroom designs are in subdued pastel patterns with an embossed finish, while for attic or small bedrooms, the small Colonial motifs are especially good. Ceilings are done in light colors—the Tiffany blend plastic effect or two-toned flat designs being the most popular.

INTEREST CHILDREN

For nurseries or playrooms, the fairy tales are "out." Designs on ivory backgrounds feature children in modern games, etc., that will appeal to the child since they are things he himself has experienced. One particularly delightful paper has a realistic hunting frieze that would be ideal for children who love animals. Little Boy Blue no longer sleeps under the historic hay-stack; a miniature automobile carries him along the paths of adventure, while Bo-Peep wears the garments of little Miss 1933, and has completely forgotten her sheep.

Kitchens and bathrooms may be papered with the most charming effects. These papers come in washable, varnished tile, in tile, broken tile and futuristic designs. There are several attractive marbled effects featured among the new papers, although the trend seems to be away from this particular design. One especially delightful kitchen paper is a broken tile effect in shades of pale grey, pale yellow, blue, and blue with vivid conventional petunias in rose, blue and yellow. Working in such surroundings surely the most dissatisfied housewife must respond to the subtle suggestion of beauty.

Come to think of it, men, this thing we call common sense isn't so very common. If it were, every pipe smoker would apply common sense to the selection of his pipe tobacco.

That would mean Ogden's Cut Plug of course. For if ever a tobacco was made for pipes it's Ogden's. And your pipe will prove it. It will talk to you in Ogden language. With Ogden's Cut Plug in the bowl you'll forget there ever were such words as "bite" or "burn" in tobacco talk.

OGDEN'S CUT PLUG

If you "roll your own," use Ogden's fine cut cigarette tobacco with Free Chantecler cigarette papers

What Today Means

"PISCES"

If March 7 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10:15 a.m. to 11:30 a.m., from 4 p.m. to 5 p.m. and from 7 p.m. to 8:20 p.m. The danger periods are from 8:30 a.m. to 9:30 a.m. and from 2 p.m. to 3 p.m.

According to the prevailing influences, you should have a highly satisfactory day at the office; everything will seem to click just right and to go off smoothly. Young people may show a tendency to run into squalls due to impulsive words and acts. Spats between lovers may quite likely occur; nothing, however, of a nature that cannot be bridged over.

The child born on this March 7 will in all probability be one who demands a great deal of attention. He will not be the type to find or create his own amusements. He should not be cared for by anyone inclined to indulge his every whim and fancy.

Born on March 7, you are a very self-reliant person. You are not at all lacking in confidence in your own abilities. You will undoubtedly be successful in business; you are a hard worker and you are quick to see and seize every opportunity that comes within striking distance. You are a good analyst of character and frequently you are able to see your competitors' weak spots and turn them to your advantage. You are shrewd, but not dishonest. You are out to make money and you will do anything legitimate to get it. You are in a sense a "hard-boiled" person. If you are at all sensitive or easily hurt, you have undoubtedly figured out how to protect yourself against hurt.

If March 7 is the date of your birth, you are not at all the hard business man when you get into your home; you are very much the family man, fond and thoughtful of your wife, loving and tender towards your children. The women born on this date make splendid mothers, but sometimes they seem either unable or unwilling to develop sufficient backbone to discipline their children. Once they learn to be firm themselves, they command the respect of and can adequately guide their little ones.

WILL REPAIR SIDNEY WHARF

Assurances Given Vote Will Be in Supplementary Federal Estimates

No time will be lost in putting in the slip at Sidney wharf, which was carried out by a recent storm. Letters were read at the meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday in reply to requests sent to the Federal members for Victoria and Nanaimo, asking for action along this line.

C. H. Dickie, M.P. for Nanaimo, in whose riding the work falls, replied that he had secured the vote in the supplementary estimates, to put the landing in first-class condition. He said that the destruction of the work had occurred too late to allow the vote being placed in the general estimates. However, it had been secured for the supplementaries. Mr. Dickie stated the work would be done in time to take care of the tourist trade, which was so essential.

D. B. Plunkett, M.P. for Victoria, replied that he had got in touch with the department, and had presented the necessity for immediate action.

RUNYAN WINS FLORIDA OPEN

Shoots Brilliant Four Rounds to Capture Golf Tourney by Ten Strokes

MIAMI, Fla., March 6. — Paul Runyan, co-winner ten days ago of the $5,000 Miami international four-ball matches, swept par aside for the fourth successive time yesterday, and took a brilliant 69-65-65-68—266 and $1,000 first money in the $5,000 Florida Year-Round Club open golf tournament. He defeated his nearest opponent by a ten-stroke margin.

Behind Runyan came Charlie Guest, youngster from Deal, N.J., who scored a 276 for his seventy-two holes of play with six-inch cups in their first use in major golf tournaments. He won $750.

Jules Huot, Quebec, and Andy Kay, Toronto, failed to crash the hard-to-make circle, Huot shot 140-70-73—288, good enough for many tourneys, but pretty far off the pace in this par-busting display. Kay had faulty rounds the first couple of days, shooting 82-75, and did not start yesterday.

A quartette tied in third place with 278's, and took $506.25 each in prize money. They were Al Espinosa, Akron, Ohio; Joe Kirkwood, Philadelphia; Walter Hagen, Detroit, and Olin Dutra, Santa Monica, Cal.

Victoria High School Campus Comments

A farce production, "The High School Follie of 1933," was presented to a crowded auditorium by male members of the school student body Friday afternoon, under the direction of Miss Florence Robertson. The setting of the Follies was in a typical Hollywood moving picture studio, with Struan Robertson as director.

Warren Godson opened the show with a piano solo, while three chorus "girls" did a remarkable dance, a "Rainbow Symphony." Anthony Hope drew much applause as he sang "Pink Elephants" after the fashion of a modern crooner.

A pantomime, entitled "Little Red Riding Hood," featured the following players: Gordon Hall, Lee Leighton, Alex Merriman and Thomas Ansby. The chorus "girls" appeared again with "Clementine," with Phyllis Addison following in a "Jazz Tap" dance. Jack Green, Clyde Thomas, Paul Smith and Ian Williams appeared as four prominent female movie stars in a humorous satire on Hollywood shows. Others appearing on the programme were Stuart Turner, Robert Acton and Charles Mudge.

Announcement was made by Principal Ira Dilworth that on Monday, April 24, the famous Hart House String Quartette will play a special programme for high school students. This feature will be sponsored by the Victoria School Board.

On Friday morning the school string orchestra, under Smyth Humphreys, made its first appearance. Guests of the school were George Jay, George H. Deane and John Kyle.

Students interested in forming a stamp club are asked to met in Room Twenty-eight at 3:15 o'clock this afternoon for an organization meeting. If this is impossible, students can hand their names in to the room and they will be recognized as members.

J. B. Clearihue, president of Kiwanis Club, addressed the school on the necessity of sportsmanship. Murray Patrick, captain of the rugby fifteen that defeated Victoria College in a rugby match as part of the Kiwanis' Sports Week programme, was presented with the Kiwanis Cup by Mr. Clearihue.

Frank Buck, staff mentor of the Beta Delta Society, took members of the organization to a sitting of the Legislature. A large number of students availed themselves of the opportunity to see the legislators in action.

Wesley Rennie, boys' work secretary of the Seattle Y.M.C.A., addressed the school on "My Impressions of Europe," and "The Youth of Today." Vivian Shoemaker, Victoria Y.M.C.A. secretary, introduced the speaker, who was enthusiastically received.

Three speeches were given at the meeting of Portia Society by members seeking to gain points toward Portia pins. Peggy Higgs spoke on "Jack London"; Doreen Palmer on "Sussex," and Caroline Woolley on "Van Dyck." Audrey Frances Farquhar, president, presided.

NANAIMO WHIPS ST. ANDREWS XI

NANAIMO, March 6. — Nanaimo City soccer team went on a scoring rampage yesterday afternoon to defeat Saint Andrews, 8-0, in a test game before 1,200 spectators. Nanaimo outclassed and outplayed the visitors in every department.

The locals were continually bombarding the visitors' goal during the whole game and Strong, visitors' goalie, was the busiest man on the field. Nanaimo scored four goals in the first twenty minutes, Watchorn, Nanaimo's crack centre, accounting for the first three as he performed the hat-trick. White scored the fourth a minute after Watchorn scored his third.

Nanaimo kept up pressure and peppered Strong. They hit the posts twice and missed by inches on several occasions. Saint Andrews were seldom dangerous, with one exception, when Glover saved from Surtees. The visitors showed up better in the second half, and Manley brought Glover to his knees to save. The locals soon took up the offensive, adding four goals in quick succession through Kulai (2), Sandiland and Inkster. Surtees started several nice plays, and was the pick of the visitors.

Here's Miss Loughton's Recipe. Can you name it?

1 cup butter
2 cups fine white sugar
3 cups pastry flour or
2¾ cups bread flour
3 teaspoons Magic Baking Powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup milk
1 cup finely chopped citron peel
2 cups chopped and blanched almonds
½ cup shredded cocoanut
5 egg whites

The texture and fine flavor of this typically English cake depend upon careful mixing. Cream the butter and sugar till light and fluffy. Sift flour once. Dust peel, nuts and cocoanut with one-half cup of flour; add Magic Baking Powder and salt to balance of the flour, sift together twice, then gradually add alternately with milk to the creamed butter and sugar; when thoroughly blended add peel, nuts and cocoanut. Lastly fold in the stiffly beaten whites. Turn into a well-greased loaf pan. Bake 1¼ hours in 400° F. oven for the first 20 minutes, then gradually decrease heat.

FORMER LOCAL RESIDENT DIES

Mrs. William Upton Runnalls, a native daughter of Victoria, and latterly a resident of Seattle, succumbed suddenly, here, yesterday, when she dropped dead from a heart attack, while on a visit to the city. Mrs. Runnalls was spending a holiday in Victoria with Dr. and Mrs. G. L. Milne, 618 Dallas Road.

Born in Victoria fifty-eight years ago, Mrs. Runnalls resided in this city until 1916, when she left for Vancouver. She lived on the Mainland for nearly thirteen years, later moving to Seattle. ### BANK HOLIDAY HITS THREE RACE MEETS

NEW YORK, March 6 (AP).—With a whoop and a hurrah, amateur boxing and professional wrestling today leaped merrily into the midst of the United States banking situation and turned it into an opportunity to play Santa Claus with the regular customers.

Jack Curley, New York master of the wrestling herds, with a show on in Madison Square Garden tonight, offered to take promissory notes, accept cheques, or pawn the ticket seeker's watch for a couple of ringside seats, while The New York Daily News Athletic Association, promoting the annual gold gloves boxing tournament, went him several better.

The golden glovers, now in the semi-final stage, asked only that the prospective spectator bring 5 cents in cash to St. Nicholas Rink for the semi-finals tonight, along with 50 cents worth of canned goods, haberdashery, drugs, soap, foodstuffs, hardware, ornaments or anything else, alive or otherwise. The 5 cents cash was for Federal tax.

GARDEN AGAINST BARTER

While the Garden announced formally that the financial situation would have no bearing on athletic programmes already scheduled, Jimmy Johnston, in charge of boxing, emitted the long squawk at the idea of reverting to barter.

"There'll be none of that with Friday night's fight show," he said. "If they have no dough, cash or money, they stay outside. If they've got any food, let them lug it home where it belongs. With grub as scarce as it is, they should get their heads examined for trying to change it into fight seats."

Outside of New York, the bank holiday had more serious effects.

Two race tracks, one at Agua Caliente and the other at New Orleans, called off their programmes, but Hialeah Park officials, at Miami, decided to complete the last six days of their meeting. At Oriental Park, in Havana, it was announced there would be no shutdown. Betting at Hialeah fell off about 40 per cent.

An insurance agent had found a new life to insure.

Taking out his notebook and pencil, he commenced to ask the usual hackneyed questions.

"Now, sir," he said, "how old are you?"

The simple-looking little man scratched his head thoughtfully.

"I was forty last birthday," he said, "and I'll be forty-two next."

The agent gasped.

"But, my dear sir," he smiled. "You've got things a bit mixed. If you were forty last birthday, you'll be forty-one next birthday."

"Oh, no," said the man. "I'm forty-one today."

Extends Sympathy—On motion of G. H. Stevens, vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce, the directors of that body yesterday expressed regret at the death of a valued member, J. E. B. Dickson, and a letter of sympathy was ordered to be sent to Mrs. Dickson and members of the family.

New Members—At the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce directors yesterday, three new members were introduced to the meeting. They were: C. Newmarch, manager Canadian Bank of Commerce, Douglas and Bay Streets branch; Thomas Bird, Home Oil Distributors, Ltd., and J. A. Kennedy, manager E. & N. Railway Co.

Made Trustees—Colonel W. W. Foster, D.S.O., and Alex. D. Wilson, of Vancouver, and Captain W. Bavis, of Port Renfrew, was made a justice of the peace.

Reunion Luncheon—Former members of the Victoria Gyro Club, residing in the city or in other parts, will be invited to attend a luncheon meeting of the club on "Former Gyros' Day," on Monday, March 27. May Appeal to Ottawa—R. C. Lowe, counsel for Jack W. W. Sealey, who was sentenced to three years in penitentiary for stealing women's wearing apparel in Esquimalt, announced yesterday he would take the young man's case to Ottawa. Mr. Lowe had intended to reopen the case in the Esquimalt police court, but withdrew his plea when court opened yesterday morning.

Application Postponed—Owing to the inability of Chief Justice Aulay Morrison to attend Supreme Court chambers, here, yesterday, because of additional work at New Westminster, applications for chambers were postponed until this morning, at 10:30 o'clock. The chief justice will preside over the Supreme Court for the month of March, and will also hear the four trials at the criminal assizes, which open March 13.

Endorses Move—The directors of the Chamber of Commerce at the luncheon meeting yesterday endorsed the resolution of the Vancouver Real Estate Exchange dealing with the subject of succession duties and probates. The principles set forth favored the bringing of the provincial legislation as to succession duties more in line with the Ontario and British enactments and which would not tie up estates pending the settlement of affairs after death, and that in the matter of probates there would be greater latitude given to submitting evidence as to values.

City Investments — On recommendation of the finance committee, the City Council last night authorized the following exchange of sinking fund investments: £10,000 Canadian Northern Ontario Railway 3.5 per cent bonds, due 1938, for £10,000 City of Victoria 4.5 per cent bonds, due 1940, at $83. The following purchases were also authorized: $1,000 City of Victoria 5 per cent bonds, due 1945, at 89.16, to yield 6.30 per cent; $3,000 City of Victoria 4 per cent bonds, due 1951, at $76.90, to yield 6.10 per cent, and $1,000 City of Victoria 4.5 per cent bonds, due 1943, at $86.67, to yield 6.25 per cent interest.

Attacks Policy—T. D. Pattullo, Leader of the Opposition, attacked the Government, yesterday, on payment of $325,000 for timber lands at Buttle Lake as a park reserve. Interest and sinking funds on the sum had to be met, and the timber in its present state was not benefiting the taxpayer, he said. Mr. Pattullo asked the Government what it proposed to pay for areas adjoining Strathcona Park, negotiations for which were said now to be under way. The comment was made during consideration of the Provincial Parks Act and the Garibaldi Park Act, introduced by Hon. N. S. Lougheed. Dr. G. K. MacNaughton (Conservative, Comox) and J. W. Berry (Conservative, Delta) adjourned debate on the bills. The House adjourned at 5:27 p.m. until 3 p.m. today.

Has No Plan for Marketing Board

OTTAWA, March 6 (CP).—The Government has no intention of setting up a national wheat marketing board at this session, was the reply given by the Prime Minister to a question asked by C. R. McIntosh (Lib., North Battleford), in the House of Commons today. Mr. McIntosh inquired as to the Government's intentions in this respect in view of "further preparations by representatives of the wheat pools."

These representatives, Mr. Bennett said, had been advised of the Government's decision.

BILL COOK STILL TOP N.H. SCORER

Rangers' Sharpshooter Hard Pressed by Three Canadian Sectionists

MONTREAL, March 6 (CP). — Bill Cook, the ranking sniper of Lester Patrick's Rangers blue shirts, had an eager pack howling at his heels tonight, as the elder of the Saskatchewan farming brothers footed it down the stretch in the van of National Hockey League point-makers.

Chief among Cook's challengers for the leadership were three Canadian sectionists, Paul Haynes and Baldy Northcott, of Montreal Maroons, and Harvey Jackson, of Toronto. Virtually certain to finish first in the United States division, Cook had 40 points—20 goals and 20 assists, according to figures released tonight by President Frank Calder.

His only worry in the group was brother Bun, whose points totaled 35, and Marty Barry, of Boston, who had 33. But Haynes had 38, Jackson 37 and Northcott 36. Jackson's 23 goals placed him ahead of all marksmen, and the Leaf left winger, leading point-getter a year ago, was in a good position to finish ahead again.

The Canadiens' dash to the playoffs had brought Aurel Joliat, John Gagnon and Howie Morenz within striking range; Joliat with 34 points, Gagnon with 33 and Morenz 32. Herbie Lewis, Detroit's No. 1 shot, was fourth in the United States section, with 31 points.

Appeal Court Opens Today On Mainland

The British Columbia Court of Appeal will open its Spring sitting this morning, at 11 o'clock, at the courthouse, in Vancouver, when judgment will be delivered in a number of appeals heard by the court during its Winter session in Victoria during January and February.

Twenty-eight appeals, including fifteen criminal cases, are listed for hearing before the Appeal Court on the Mainland. The interim injunction of ex-Chief of Police C. E. Edgett, of Vancouver, which was served too late to accomplish its purpose of preventing Vancouver's Board of Police Commissioners from appointing a successor to his office, will be one of the important matters before the tribunal for determination.

Among the criminal cases are two Victoria appeals. Ernest Walter Oram is appealing against a conviction on a charge of false pretences, on which he was sentenced by Magistrate Jay to six months' imprisonment. Lee Fong Shee, Chinese woman, seeks to quash the conviction against her on a charge of having opium in her possession. She was sentenced in County Court here by His Honor Judge P. S. Lampman to six months' imprisonment and a fine.

Russia Docks Early From Ports in East; Travel Keeps Light

Liner Had Smooth Voyage from Yokohama—Dorothy Alexander Made Smart Trip Up the Coast—Dinteldyk Is Four Days Late

From Far East ports, including Manila, Hongkong, Shanghai, Nagasaki, Kobe and Yokohama, the Canadian Pacific liner Ss. Empress of Russia, Captain A. J. Hosken, R.N.R., commander, docked at Rithet Piers yesterday morning, at 7 o'clock. The liner brought a small passenger list, the total number in all classes being eighty-two. These included fifteen first-class, eight tourist cabin, eight third and fifty-one steerage. Several passengers from all classes left the big ship here, the majority of whom traveled to Seattle by the Ss. Princess Alice on her regular afternoon run to the Puget Sound City.

Officers of the Russia reported fine weather for the greater part of the way from Yokohama. The North Pacific was in one of its happiest moods and, with the exception of a little rough weather during the last two days, when fog was also encountered, there was nothing out of the ordinary met with, and as a result, the liner tied up about her scheduled time.

For Victoria, the Russia had sixty tons of general cargo, including a parcel of raw silk, which will go forward to New York by way of San Francisco and the Panama Canal. For Vancouver, the ship had 1,800 bales of silk for transhipment to New York overland. This will go East by Canadian Pacific Railway.

A passenger for Victoria on the liner was Frederick Knight, who is on leave from Singapore. Mr. Knight is identified with the Sir John Jackson Company, at the Eastern port, and joined Mrs. Knight, who has been visiting in Victoria with relatives since September last. Mr. and Mrs. Knight plan to remain here until April, when they will sail by the Ss. Empress of Canada on the return trip to Singapore.

Other passengers aboard the ship included George Hogg, manager of the National City Bank of New York, at Shanghai; J. O. Drysdale, connected with the Shanghai Power Company, journeying to Scotland, accompanied by Mrs. Drysdale and small son; Mrs. H. D. Wade, wife of the medical director of the Leonard Wood Memorial Hospital, at Manila, en route to New York; R. H. Kirkpatrick, catering superintendent for the Canadian Pacific Steamships at Vancouver, returning from Hongkong; G. S. Sale, director of Sale & Co., of London and Tokio, on his way to England; and A. W. Robertson, of Manila, of the Findlay, Miller Timber Company, of the Philippine Islands, returning to New York and London.

WORLD TOURISTS

Also included in the passenger list of the Russia were three travelers who left the Empress of Britain at Hongkong. They were forced to discontinue their passage aboard the cruise ship on account of business. They included E. T. Patenaude, of Quebec; Dr. D. W. Sanderson, of Birmingham, and I. S. Osborn, of Manchester. Dr. Sanderson and Mr. Osborn will cross the continent to New York, and board the Ss. Europa there for the passage of the Atlantic.

From California ports, the Pacific Steamship Lines Ss. Dorothy Alexander arrived at Rithet Piers shortly before 7:30 o'clock last evening, after making a smart trip from San Francisco. The Dorothy had passengers and cargo for the port, a number of the passengers disembarking here being bound for the Mainland. The ship remained at the dock until midnight, when she proceeded to Seattle.

Inbound from Japan ports, the Nippon Yusen Kaisha motor liner Hiye Maru was at William Head at 3:45 o'clock yesterday morning. The Hiye Maru proceeded to Vancouver, where she arrived at 8 o'clock. The Japanese liner had seventy-two passengers in all classes aboard. The ship also had two carloads of silk for overland, and about 500 tons of Canadian cargo.

GRAIN SHIP AWAY

OLD COUNTRY TRIP PLANNED

Victoria Business Men Asked to Join Vancouver Party on Trade Mission

Addressing a joint meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce and directors of the local branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, yesterday, J. B. Thomson, past president of the Vancouver Board of Trade and a member of the Harbor Board of that port, outlined the plans for a visit of business men of the Coast to Great Britain in June on a mission of seeking greater trade.

He asked the co-operation of Victoria in the matter, and at the conclusion of the address, the president and secretary of the chamber, and the chairman and the secretary of the C.M.A. were named to endeavor to secure from Victoria representative business men to make the trip.

Mr. Thomson, who was president of the Vancouver Board of Trade in 1923, when a delegation went from Vancouver on a somewhat similar mission, felt that there was every reason to expect good results from the tour this year. The Ottawa conference afforded the opportunity for obtaining greater things in the matter of trade. He felt that the opportunity presenting itself should not be lost. Representatives from Great Britain who came out last Summer had suggested that a return visit would be a wise move.

WANT KEY MEN

On such a tour, Mr. Thomson said, there should be representatives of the various industries that could give exact information. In the lumber trade they needed a man like J. O. Cameron. Another should represent the fisheries, another mining and another the agricultural industry. Key men in these lines should go to present the situation in a practical way.

The plans were being prepared in Great Britain for their coming, and the speaker wanted Victoria to be well represented on the delegation. The plan was to leave Montreal by the Duchess of Athol, on May 27. This would bring them to the Old Land early in June, and practically all that month would be spent touring the country.

W. E. Payne, secretary of the Vancouver Board of Trade, who accompanied Mr. Thomson, had gone into the matter of costs and placed the return trip, including all costs for the tour at $750. The opportunity would be afforded the visitors to attend the Empire Chamber of Commerce, in Guildhall, London, on July 3.

RAILWAYS OFFER BARGAIN TRIPS

Easter Period Will Be Occasion for Reductions in Transportation by Canadian Roads

MONTREAL, March 6.—Easter, the longest vacation week-end period of the current year, extending from Thursday evening, April 13, to Tuesday morning, April 18, will be recognized by Canadian railways in attractive fares for the general traveling public and for teacher-students on holidays from universities, colleges and schools at that time.

Announcement is made by C. P. Riddell, chairman of the Canadian Passenger Association, that bargain trips will be available right across Canada, between all points from Halifax to Vancouver on Canadian railways at the rate of one and one-quarter of the first-class coach fare for the return journey. Since Easter falls in mid-April this year, the weather is more likely to be propitious for holiday visits and the railways are expecting a large response among holiday makers.

For the general public, tickets will be on sale and valid April 13 to April 16, with return good until April 18.

For teachers and students, tickets will be available three days before, up until three days after the closing date of the school, but not earlier than April 13, nor later than April 16, and upon presentation of a Canadian Passenger Association certificate. Return date of tickets will be the date of the reopening of the school, but not later than April 24.

ADVANTAGEOUS TO RAILROADS

Pick-Up and Store-Door Delivery Confined to Ontario for Experiment

MONTREAL, March 6.—The extension to other territories of the pick-up and delivery service which goes into effect at stations on the lines of the C.P.R. and C.N.R. in Southwestern Ontario, is not contemplated in the immediate future, according to a statement issued by the railways today. For the present, the plan will be limited to the Ontario territory which was chosen by the railways for the experiment.

The plan gives to shippers the advantages of pick-up and store-door delivery at many points at a one-commodity rate and at the same time does not involve any capital expenditure on the part of the railways. It was emphasized that the railways are not going into the trucking business. The movement of freight will still be by rail, but under the new plan will include cartage to and from the freight sheds of the railways. This cartage will be performed, under contract, by existing trucking agencies and therefore the railways will not be called upon to make any expenditure for equipment.

It is anticipated that the plan will work out to the advantage of shippers, the railways and the trucking interests involved. The co-ordination of trucking and fast rail facilities will, it is believed, bring about an increased volume of business that will justify the move.

The new typist determined to make a good impression upon her chief. She turned up half an hour early and began tidying up the room. When that was done, she examined her typewriter, discovered it in a shocking condition, found a bottle, and gave it a thorough oiling. Then she examined all the other typewriters in the office and oiled them too. Her chief arrived. He looked around with an air of satisfaction, and crossed to the mantelpiece. Then his smile changed to a frown. "Miss Smith," he said, "have you seen my cough mixture?"

Princess Norah Picks Up Five Men —Broken-Down Launch Shamrock Abandoned

VANCOUVER, March 6.—On Sunday morning, south of Alert Bay, Ss. Princess Norah, of Canadian Pacific Coastwise Services, paused to rescue five loggers from the launch Shamrock. The small craft had broken down and the men had been adrift, in fairly hard weather, for twelve hours.

The launch was abandoned, and the Skagway liner proceeded for Vancouver, stopping en route to transfer the rescued loggers to a launch which came out from a camp to get them.

The Shamrock is believed to be the old yacht of that name, sold some years ago to Bandickson Logging Company, which operates up the coast.

Cricketers to Hold Dance at Empress Hotel

In what it is hoped will be the final effort to raise the remaining funds necessary for payment of the cost of preparing the McDonald field for sports, Victoria cricketers will hold a dance at the Empress Hotel on Thursday, April 6. A popular local five-piece orchestra has been engaged and dancing will continue from 9 to 1 in the ballroom of the hotel. Dress will be optional and tickets are now on sale and may be obtained from any cricketer.

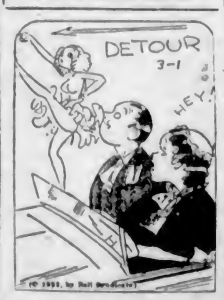

The committee in charge of proceedings is making a special appeal to all players and followers of cricket in Victoria to rally round and help make this dance a success. More grounds are urgently needed and when the McDonald field is completed, it will provide a park for cricket and Rugby second to none in the province.

LANGFORD P.-T.A.

The monthly meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Association will be held in the school house on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Rev. Robert Connell will give one of his interesting talks, which will appeal to young and old. Grades seven and eight have been invited to attend. All members and nonmembers are cordially invited.

The girl chum says things might be made a lot happier for the automobilist if a pretty girl picture could be painted on every "detour" sign.

Miss Smellie Will Address V.O.N. Today

Arriving in the city today from Ottawa, in the course of a Dominion-wide tour, following a visit in Great Britain and Europe, under the auspices of the Rockefeller Foundation, Miss Elizabeth Smellie, chief superintendent of the Victorian Order of Nurses in Canada, will address a meeting of the board members of the local branch of the order at a meeting to be held this afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. G. Lawson, Foul Bay Road.

During her visit abroad, Miss Smellie seized every opportunity to investigate methods of public health work. In Vancouver, addressing an audience, she commented on the excellence of the public health nursing system in Scotland, where the service of volunteer committees are highly valued. The maternal death rate, unfortunately, is high. In Holland prenatal care is stressed; in Denmark curative medicine is given prior place to preventive measures. Germany leads in organized social service work with forty-seven schools for social workers, in contrast to which is Poland, which is extremely poorly equipped in the matter of nursing service.

Miss Smellie will address the Graduate Nurses' Association of St. Joseph's Hospital tonight, beginning at 8 o'clock.

Drama Festival Elimination to Be on Thursday

At the elimination trials of the Drama Festival, to be held at the Crystal Garden Theatre on Thursday, March 9, the Beaux Arts players will put on a one-act play of Arnold Bennett's entitled, "The Stepmother." Arnold Bennett is well known for his penetrating and amusing character sketches, and the different parts in this instance have been well placed, with Cora Prout, the celebrated novelist's widow, played by Miss Margaret Van Vought; her stepson, Adrian Prout, by William Boorman; Christine Feverham, stenographer, by Miss Bramfoot, and the part of the doctor, Thomas Gardener, by Edward Simmons.

The Victoria Little Theatre's contribution on the same bill will be "Brothers-in-Arms," by the Canadian writer, Merrill Denison. The play is essentially Canadian in setting and theme, the scene being laid in the woods of Ontario. The following will fill the different roles: Major J. Aitrus Brown, Leslie Harie; Dorothea, his wife, Betty Hetherington; Sydney White and Charlie Henderson, backwoodsmen, Arthur Kerr and B. Hurn.

The Porch House players, as already commented, will put on two plays by A. M. D. Fairbairn, "A Pacific Coast Tragedy" and "Ebb-Tide." Tickets may be had from Fletcher's Music Store, Terry's, Joseph Greer (Fort Street) and Crystal Garden.

Mrs. A. E. Warren Dies in Winnipeg

WINNIPEG, March 6.—The death occurred on Sunday morning at the family residence, 606 Stradbrooke Avenue, of Elizabeth Margaret, wife of Mr. A. E. Warren, vice-president of the Canadian National Railways, after a long illness. She had been a resident of Winnipeg for many years, with the exception of the four years from 1925 to 1929, when the family lived in Toronto.

Mrs. Warren was born in Tottenham, Ontario, and spent her girlhood in British Columbia. Besides her husband, Mrs. Warren is survived by four daughters, Mrs. W. S. McGhie, of Toronto; Mrs. L. W. Pittmaurice, of Montreal; the Misses Helen and Ruth, at home, and a sister, Mrs. C. P. Wright, of North Portal, Sask.

The funeral service will be held on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, from St. Luke's Church. Interment will be made in the family plot, in Elmwood Cemetery.

Bridge Party To Take Place

Victoria cricketers will gather at the Britannia Branch clubrooms on Thursday, when a bridge party will be held to assist in raising funds to complete payment of their contribution to the McDonald property. All cricketers and their wives and friends are invited, and a pleasant evening is promised.

Britannia Branch to Hear Talk on Verdun

Comte Jean de Suzannet will address members of Britannia Branch this evening at their monthly general meeting. His subject will be "Verdun," and all members are requested to make a special effort to attend as the address should prove of considerable interest. The meeting will commence at 8 o'clock.

Brown, presented their three-act play, "Bill & Co." Between the acts vocal solos were given by Mrs. A. V. Simpson; violin selections by Mr. R. Mackie, with Miss D. Listen to This!

A lady from Toronto, staying at the Empress Hotel, the other day dropped into Foster's Fur Store and bought 3 little Fur Jacquets at $37.50 each. One of them for herself and the other 2 were for her two sisters.

She clearly told us that not in Toronto had she seen such pretty jacquets, and she also mentioned that our prices were much lower here than in Toronto.

No wonder, we said, our rental is much lower and we make the jacquets in our own workrooms.

How to
Correct Underweight and Curb Nervousness in Your Child

Ovaltine, the food beverage that builds body, brain and nerves, will soon improve appetite, build up strength, correct underweight and stop nervousness.

UNDERWEIGHT and nervousness are signs of malnutrition—due to improper diet, deficiencies in diet, or failure of the child to digest and assimilate its food. If your child is underweight, nervous, lacks healthy appetite, or seems not to have a full measure of childish energy and gaiety, let it have plenty of Ovaltine.

What OVALTINE is:

Ovaltine is a pure, wholesome and very nourishing food concentrate made of fresh eggs, fresh full cream milk and barley (malt extract) from Canadian farms—lightly flavoured with special cocoa.

Scientific process retains vitamins

Ovaltine is the result of years of research by internationally known scientists in world-famous laboratories. It supplies in easily digested form essential vitamins and other food elements necessary to balance nutrition—the anti-neuritic appetite producing Vitamin B is present in high proportion.

What OVALTINE does for the child

Some of the food elements in Ovaltine build bone and muscle. Some build firm flesh. Some feed the nerves and develop nerve poise. Some promote richer blood. All are correctly balanced to make a perfect food.

Ovaltine contains, in high proportion, a unique food property called diastase—a property recognized for its ability to digest the starch content of other foods regularly aken into the stomach. Thus possessing the power to lighten the digestive burdens of the stomach that's over-taxed or "nervous".

Phosphorous, too, is a vital requirement of brain and nerve cells—and must be supplied if nerve poise is to be maintained. Ovaltine furnishes this in abundance, much of it in its easily assimilated food form (lecithin).

Also notable among the constituents of Ovaltine is food calcium. And it is increasingly realized that a proper calcium metabolism is necessary to avoid nerve irritation.

Where a child is undernourished, nervous, or running around so actively that it doesn't give itself a fair chance to develop under an ordinary diet, Ovaltine will make a wonderful difference in a short time. The child's body will fill out normally, bones and muscles strengthen, nervousness pass away, because Ovaltine builds nerve, brain and muscle tissues, and bone—and as well enables the child to take more benefit from the other foods it eats.

At meals and after play

Give your children Ovaltine regularly at meals and between meals. They will love it—thrive on it—and grow bigger, stronger, brighter.

How to make OVALTINE

Make Ovaltine according to the simple directions on the tin. This is important. Do not boil or scald the milk—and do not pour Ovaltine into the milk while heating.

Sold at all stores, in air tight tins, 4 sizes. The 5-lb. size is very economical.

ALSO SERVED AT SODA FOUNTAINS

BOY TREBLE IS GREAT FAVORITE

Iwan Davies Delights Audiences at Shrine Hall—Brilliant Accompanist

On the rare occasions when Victoria has been privileged to hear boys' choirs on the concert platform, occasionally the beautiful, clear treble notes of some individual voice breaking through the vocal symphony has made one long to hear a whole recital by such a voice. The opportunity came yesterday when Iwan Davies, remembered here as one of the members of the Savoy Chapel Choir, that came to the city two years ago, appeared in two recital programmes, at the Shrine Auditorium. It was a unique and memorable occasion, unique because probably never before has a boy treble given a concert here, and memorable because of the peculiar beauty and charm of the voice.

Welsh by birth and upbringing prior to his admission to the London choir school, Iwan has the temperament and musical instincts of his people. It colors his voice, gives to it a rare quality of strength, richness, and sweetness; and is also undoubtedly responsible for certain characteristic and decidedly pleasing features in phrasing, tempo, and general singing style.

BEAUTIFULLY PLACED

The voice is beautifully placed, has faultless intonation, and is unusually full, sweet and effortless in production, the middle and upper registers, particularly, having a ringing quality that indicates a good reservoir of tone. The major weakness is the diction, the faultiness of which marred some otherwise beautiful numbers, notably "The Mighty Builder," where the words were particularly important.

In the two programmes especial favorites were Handel's "Where'er You Walk;" the two Welsh airs, the touchingly sung "David of the White Rock," and the beautiful old air, "All Through the Night," both sung in Welsh, and both with clean-cut enunciation; Easthope Martin's "Holy Child"; the explicitly-phrased and charmingly simple and sincere interpretation of "My Task;" "The Arcadians," which served to show the range and maturity of the singer's tone, and the sensitiveness of the accompanist; Tschaikowsky's "Absent," with violin obbligato played by Miss B. Warner; Adams' "Holy City," with its ringing Hosanna; the tuneful and distinctly national "Song of the Plow" (Lewis); Adams' "Home Beloved to Me," with its beautiful cantabile treatment, and the very appealing and touching "My Little Welsh Home" (Williams), followed, as an encore, by "Daddy," evidently a favorite of the singer's, as well as of the audience.

Matthew Heft, the pianist, proved a brilliant young virtuoso in solo work as well as a sensitive and artistic accompanist. He gave dazzling performances of Lully's "Klavier Study," Debussy's "Danse Profane," Arnold's Gigue in "A" Major, Debussys "Jardins sous la pluie," and the spectacularly colorful Granados' "Allegro de Concerto," exhibiting uncanny facility in each and all.

EIGHTEEN YEARS WITH ABORIGINES

White Woman Prefers to Remain With Tribe on Death of Native Husband

SYDNEY, New South Wales (BUP).—A woman born within the sound of Bow Bells and brought up in Greenwich, has lived for eighteen years with wandering Australian aborigines—the only authentic case of a white woman who has done so.

She was the wife of a full-blooded native for eighteen years, and is the mother of his two half-caste children.

When her husband died last year, the authorities asked her if she would like to leave the aborigines' camp and "live white" again. But she refused.

"That would mean rent to pay and the children to educate," she said, "and with living so dear I prefer to stay here. The natives are very kind to me."

This woman, Mrs. Jack Forbes—or "Widget," as her husband was often called—lives in an aboriginal camp in the heart of Flinders Ranges, to the north of South Australia.

"My name before my marriage was Becky Castledine," she said. "I am fifty-four years old . . . I came to Australia twenty-one years ago."

MET ON SHEEP RUN

She met her husband when she was working on a sheep run.

"When he proposed," she said, "I could see no reason for rejecting him . . . He was always a good husband. I shall never marry again."

Describing her mode of life, she said: "I get the blacks' rations, a little tea, sugar and flour every week, with a native frock once a year. With my four goats and five fowls I can manage. I never think about my old life in England. That seems too long ago to bother about. I have three brothers and three sisters somewhere there."

Shortage of Money Halts Racing Meet At Caliente Track

Officials Suspend Meeting at Mexican Layout Until Friday—Small Sum Handled Sunday—Pillow Flight Beaten by Head

AGUA CALIENTE, Mexico, March 6. — The Agua Caliente Jockey Club suspended indefinitely its eighty-day race meeting after completion of racing yesterday, as a result of money shortage, reflecting the banking situation in the United States.

Joseph M. Schenck, Hollywood motion picture producer and president of the Agua Caliente Jockey Club, said he hoped to resume the meeting the latter part of this week.

The announcement of the suspension came after the last race on yesterday's programme, the sixty-third of the meeting. If it is possible to reopen the track on Friday, as Schenck said he hoped it would be, none of the major stake races will be affected.

Despite a crowd of 10,000 yesterday, the pari-mutuel machines handled under $30,000.

PILLOW FLIGHT BEATEN

Bahamas, four-year-old Bon Homme gelding, won the $1,000 Man of War Handicap yesterday by a head from Pillow Flight, imported half-brother of Phar Lap, at six furlongs. ## HAYNES TOPS LARGE FIELD IN CUP MEET

Turns in Net 65 to Head List in Galt Trophy Tourney at Oak Bay Links

Shooting the Oak Bay links in five over par, Harold E. Haynes captured the medal honors in the qualifying round of the Galt Cup competition on Sunday at the Victoria Golf Club. Haynes turned in a gross 74, which his nine handicap reduced to a net 65, which was good enough to head the large field by three strokes. Alan Taylor shot a brilliant round of 73 and Jack Matson carded a fine 74 to finish in a tie for second place with net scores of 68. Taylor has a five handicap and Matson a six.

G. K. Thompson took fourth position with a net 69. He turned in a card of 79-10—69, while H. J. Davis was fifth with 82-12—70, and G. A. Campbell and C. W. Walker were deadlocked for next place with net 71's. Alex Watson, Don Campbell, Goldwyn Terry and Harold Wilson tied for the last two qualifying places and will play a full round during the week to decide who will play in the cup flight.

First round of match play must be completed by Sunday and the second round by March 19. March 26 is the date set for the completion for the third round and the final will take place by April 2. All matches will be eighteen holes, except the final, which will be over thirty-six holes.

PENALTY GOAL GIVES SAINTS TWO-ALL DRAW

St. Andrews and Royals Battle to Deadlock—Turner Scores Twice

VANCOUVER, March 6 (CP).—Stephen's penalty kick six minutes before the final whistle gave St. Andrew's a 2-2 draw with Westminster Royals in a Pacific Coast Soccer League match here Saturday. Although Scots held an edge during the first half, they were lucky to eke out the draw decision as Royals completely dominated the play after half-time.

Daisy Waugh and Anderson collided just before the half-time interval and the Scots' inside right was taken to hospital with what was feared a broken leg just above the ankle.

Scots scored first. Thirty minutes from the first whistle, Alcock passed to Surtees, who, in turn, passed to Boath and although the centre was borne over to the left, Waugh dashed over and hooked the ball into the net from a seemingly impossible angle.

TURNER SCORES TWICE

Royals equalized shortly before half-time, when Coulter backheeled to Turner and the latter went through to drive the ball past Rabbit as the goalie came out in a vain effort to stop the kick.

Royals went ahead thirty minutes after resumption, when Turner squared to West, who headed through to centre. Six minutes before time Scots knotted the count. Manson was through the defence and set to shoot from five yards out when he was tripped by Russell. On the resulting penalty, Stephen drove the ball past Sanford for the equalizer.

League Champions Open Spring Training

YOU can't expect the boys to be experts after the Winter lay-off, so the Chicago Cubs, champions of the National League for 1932, open their Spring training with a larger ball than usual. Members of the Windy City team are shown at Avalon, Catalina Island, Cal., undergoing a stiff workout with the medicine ball to get hand and eye limbered up before they go to work on the genuine diamond "pill."

BRUINS NOSE OUT RANGERS IN WILD TILT

Teams Engage in Free-for-All—Leafs Trounce Hawks—Wings Win

NEW YORK, March 6.—Boston Bruins fought their way to a 2 to 1 victory over New York Rangers in the wildest, roughest National Hockey League battle seen in Madison Square Garden this season. The triumph left Boston only a point behind the Rangers, who are second in the American division.

The game reached a climax halfway through the third period in a free-for-all fight that brought two major penalties and three minors. It started in a roughing bout between Bun Cook, Rangers, and Alex Smith, Boston. Pinned against the boards, Bun tried to kick his way loose, and received a clout with a stick for his pains. The benches were cleared as all the members of both teams either joined in, or tried to separate the combatants.

Both Boston goals came after this outburst. Each team was playing two men short, when Eddie Shore jammed in Nels Stewart's pass for the tying goal. They had one man apiece off some three minutes later when Joe Lamb and Dit Clapper got together on a speedy play, that gave Clapper the winning counter.

SUMMARY

First Period—No score. Penalties: Lamb, Clapper and Johnson.

Second Period — 1, Rangers, F. Cook (W. Cook), 5:59. Penalties: Johnson, Stewart (2), (one ten-minute misconduct), Somers and Pettinger.

Third Period—2, Boston, Shore (Stewart), 12:10; 3, Boston, Clapper (Lamb), 15:25. Penalties: W. Cook (2), F. Cook (2), (one major), Smith (major), Brennan and Barry.

WINGS BLANK SENATORS

DETROIT, March 6. — Detroit's Red Wings, working hard to keep the American Division lead, shut out the Ottawa Senators, 2 to 0, yesterday evening, in a tame National League hockey contest, before some 8,000 spectators.

John Roxs Roach, Wing goalie, took good care of his nets, turning back everything the Senators could offer; while the Wings were gathering in one goal after another off the feet of an Ottawa player. Ebbie Goodfellow, playing his first game here in nearly a month, scored on a perfect pass by Gallagher, in the first period, and in the final period, got credit for another goal when he drove the puck at Bill Beveridge, Ottawa net minder, Burke, Ottawa defence man, skating in to carry the puck past the goal line.

The game was spotty, the Senators showing occasional flashes of speed, that swept them past the Detroit defence, but Roach stopped some brilliant shots to earn a shut-out.

First Period—1, Detroit, Goodfellow (Gallagher, 7:32. Penalties: Cox (2).

Second Period—No score. Penalties: Cox, Emms and Evans.

Third Period— 2, Detroit, Goodfellow, 17:35. Penalties: Rockburn, Davis and D. Roche.

LEAFS TRIM HAWKS

CHICAGO, March 6.—Taking better advantage of their opportunities, the Toronto Maple Leafs, yesterday evening, defeated the Chicago Black Hawks, 2 to 1, in a fast, rough National League match.

The Leafs produced their goals in quick bursts, Bob Gracie connecting on a pass from King Clancy in the last minute of the first period, and Charlie Conacher getting away with a solo near the middle of the second for the second.

Twice in the first period, penalties gave the Hawks chances and, although they peppered Lorne Chabot with shots, could not beat him. They finally scored early in the final period, Johnny Gottselig converting a pass, on which Doc Romnes and Mush March were given assists.

The second period produced a fist fight between Taffy Abel and Conacher, for which both drew major penalties, and in which Conacher appeared to have a little the better.

SUMMARY

First Period—1, Toronto, Gracie (Clancy), 19:00. Penalties: Levinsky, Day and Jackson.

Second Period—2, Toronto, Conacher, 8:30. Penalties: Abel (major), Conacher (major), Day and Gottselig.

Third Period—3, Chicago, Gottselig (Romnes-March), 4:30. Penalties: Blair, Conacher, Couture and Coulter.

Corbett Wants $50,000 Guarantee to Meet McLarnin

LOS ANGELES, March 6 (AP).—Larry White, manager for Young Corbett, welterweight boxing champion of the world, held a conference with Jack Doyle, local promoter, today, but failed to reach an agreement for a proposed bout with Jimmy McLarnin at Wrigley Field here, in May.

Corbett's manager said he is asking $50,000 as the champion's share. He said they would meet again tomorrow, but admitted Doyle felt he could not guarantee that much money at this time.

THREE CHANGES ARE MADE; WILLIAMS TO PLAY ON HALF LINE

Displaces Viggers at Right Half—Joe Crowe Gains Fullback Position and Freddy Price Is Placed at Centre Forward—Second Division Teams to Appear in First Match

Goal — Louis de Costa (Esquimalt).
Right Back—Joe Crowe (Saanich Thistles).
Left Back—Fred Gibbons (Victoria City).
Right Halfback — Ronnie Williams (Saanich Thistles).
Centre Half—Bill Boyd (Victoria City).
Left Halfback — Tommy Smith (Victoria City).
Outside Right — Harry Youson (Victoria West).
Inside Right—Alex Stewart (Esquimalt).
Centre — Fred Price (Saanich Thistles).
Substitutes — Joe Watt (Esquimalt), Terry Peers (Victoria West), "Scotty" Robinson (Victoria West). Reserve goalkeeper, Wally Rowe (Victoria West). Manager, Doc Poyntz, and trainers, Jimmy Carmichael and Chris Bloomfield.

Three changes, all of them affecting important positions, featured the selection of Victoria's intercity football team at last night's meeting of the executive, at the Y.M.C.A., for the Pacific Coast Football League clash on Saturday afternoon at the Royal Athletic Park against the smart-working Nanaimo City eleven. League officials decided to present a double-header to the fans and will put on Esquimalt and Saanich Thistles, of the Second Division, in the curtain-raiser at 2 o'clock. Victoria and Nanaimo will be sent into action at 3:30 o'clock, with Ralph Alcock handling the whistle and Davies and McKinnon as linesmen. T. Robb will referee the first match.

THE CHANGES

The changes made affected the back division, half line and the front rank. Joe Crowe his displaced Joe Watt at the right fullback position, while Ronnie Williams has taken over Eddie Viggers' place at right halfback, and Freddy Price will start at centre forward in place of "Scotty" Robinson, who has been put on the substitute list along with Joe Watt and Terry Peers. Crowe has been playing great soccer for the Thistles of late. He is a fine defender, a great offensive player and has been noted for the steady way he plays during a game, no matter how the score stands. The placing of Williams on the intermediate rank will be greeted with aproval as the young Thistles' halfback has been playing brilliantly all season and fully deserves a position on any "rep" side. It will mark the first time since he entered senior company that Williams will be playing on an all-star squad.

Placing of Price at the pivot position is a move that can be taken one way or the other. He is a fine footballer and last Saturday turned in a great game for Saanich against Esquimalt. Price is well schooled in the game. He is tricky, unselfish, can carry the ball with uncanny cleverness and packs a fast drive with both feet. His playing will be watched with interest.

TEAM IS STRONG

The team is well balanced, powerful in all departments, and if the front line functions, it should give a good display against the strong Up-Island aggregation. With the reliable De Costa in goal and Joe Crowe and Fred Gibbons at fullback, the rear division is sound. Williams, Boyd and Smith make up a formidable intermediate rank.

Harry Youson and "Scotty" Stewart should comprise a fast right wing combination, while Ernie Betteridge and Mike Wagland should work together on the left side in fine fashion. If these combinations feed Price, Victoria will do its share of scoring. The substitutes, Watt, Peers and Robinson, are expected to see action before the finish. Not taking any chances, the league has chosen Wally Rowe, Victoria West, as reserve goalie, in case anything might happen to De Costa. This is a good move as most of the Mainland elevens carry a spare net-minder.

Beavers Cagers And Harmony in Up-Island Wins

Frank Shandley's Beavers took a 35-27 lead in the Vancouver Island intermediate "A" basketball championship by defeating Courtenay in the first of a two-game series on the Up-Island court Saturday evening. The same night, Bob Whyte took his Harmony girls to Port Alberni and battled to a 13-13 deadlock with the Up-Island fair sex in the intermediate "A" girls' Island play-off.

The Up-Island clubs will invade the city tomorrow night to meet Beavers and Harmony in the second and final fixtures. The survivors of these play-offs will represent the Island in the British Columbia series later in the month.

ALL-BLACKS WIN RUGBY

Capture Vancouver City Title and Right to Meet J.B.A.A. Fifteen

VANCOUVER, March 6 (CP).—North Shore All-Blacks downed ex-Magee, 6-0, to win the Vancouver English Rugby title here Saturday and the right to meet Victoria J.B.A.A. Club for the Rounsefell Cup on April 1.

Ex-Magee's back division played the best football of its career today, but although the forwards also performed well, they were unable to cross the All-Blacks' line. It was tight football throughout, no scores being obtained until half-time.

Shortly after the resumption, the All-Blacks, aided by their mascot, a white goat, and a slight breeze, made the most of every attack. Carey, the clever halfback find of the season, converting two penalty kicks in succession about midway through the period.

Magee, too, had their openings, but the defence of the winner was too sound. In their first season of senior football, the All-Blacks have thus won the Tisdall Cup and city championship.

CARPET BOWLING

In the Spencer Cup tournament for women, Willows Rose won from the Lake Hill Bluebirds by a score of 16 to 15. The A.O.F. Marionettes won from the L.O.B.A. Gliders, 24 to 12.

In the semi-finals of the Army & Navy Cup tournament for men, two teams from the Willows Club were successful in making the finals. The Willows Capitals (A. McMillan, skip) winning from the Lake Hill Lions (Mitchell, skip), and the Willows Rangers (Leiper, skip) winning from the Crystal Garden Congos (Baker, skip).

The finals will be played during the annual tournament, which will commence next Wednesday at the Willows Club, where alterations are being made by the club to accommodate the tournament players. All entries for the tournament must be filed with the secretary on or before Monday evening, when the draw will be made at a meeting to be held at the Foresters' Hall.

CRICKET PLANS FOR COMING SEASON COMPLETED

League and Knockout Competitions to Be Played This Summer

Cricketers Will Get Into Action on May 6—Seattle Team Wants to Arrange Games Here—English Test Team Not Expected to Play Here

Cricket along similar lines to last year will be played by clubs under the jurisdiction of the Victoria and District Cricket Association, it was decided at the adjourned general meeting of the association held at the Y.M.C.A. last night. The official season will commence on May 6, and league and knockout competitions will take place throughout the season. At least one outside team besides those from the Mainland, will compete with local players, it was announced. The St. George's Club, of Seattle, has written requesting games at the commencement of July. Formation of a secondary league is probable, and at least one and possibly two or three junior elevens will be formed. P. C. Payne, president, was in the chair.

Doug Fletcher presented the report of the dance committee. The recent dance had netted the association over $70, and the sum necessary to pay the cricketers' contribution to the McDonald property was rapidly being reduced, he said. He urged all cricketers to support the next dance and also the bridge party to be held at the Britannia Branch next Thursday, so that the association could clear off this obligation and turn its endeavors to other lines in the promotion and betterment of cricket.

MAY DISBAND B.C.C.A.

The question of the attitude the association would take at the annual meeting of the British Columbia Cricket Association was brought up and aroused considerable discussion. Frank Allwood, secretary of the B.C.C.A., gave an account of the activities of that body and stated that in his opinion it would be better to disband it and reform it along different lines. The matter was finally left over until after the meeting of the B.C.C.A., when the Victoria representative will hold a "watching brief."

The meeting unanimously supported a motion to form an umpires' association in the city and district, if sufficient men could be found to volunteer their services. The executive will do all possible in the matter. A committee, consisting of Hubert Lethaby, F. A. Sparks and F. Saxton-White, was appointed to go into the matter of arranging space for indoor cricket practice at the Willows and to meet W. H. Mearns and T. W. C. Hawkins, officials of the Agricultural Association, with that end in view.

It was stated that it was somewhat doubtful wether the English test team would be able to play a game in Victoria on its return trip to England. The question of train connections might prevent any stop-over here, but the executive was endeavoring to arrange a game and all possible would be done.

Match play will commence Sunday, when two rounds of eighteen holes will be held. The following Sunday the semi-final will take place in the morning and the final in the afternoon.

Frank Moore was in second position with 82-14—68, while George Pretty and Allan Craig, Jr., were tied for third place with net 70's.

Norman Tyrrell and N. S. Mitchell were next with 71, while Bert Irish and Ernie Cook shared next position with net scores of 72. ● Here's the answer to our statement that the "BLUE BLADE" provides the cheapest shaving method known. "BLUE BLADE" edges cut glass. Steel hard enough to do this gives far more shaves per penny. For real shaving economy buy "BLUE BLADES."

The "BLUE BLADE" is made in addition to the regular Gillette Blade sold in the green package.

WILL RETIRE RATHER THAN TAKE $50,000

Babe Ruth Makes Drastic Statement Concerning Contract Offered

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 6 (AP). — Babe Ruth, New York Yankee slugger, will retire from baseball rather than accept an offer of $50,000 for the 1933 season, he said, in an interview here tonight. But in the same breath he added that he anticipated no trouble reaching an agreement with Colonel Jacob Ruppert, and that he would report for practice with the rest of the Yankee regular squad on Wednesday.

"Financial conditions throughout the country have not changed my mind in any way regarding my 1933 contract," said Ruth. "I believe I am worth more to the Yanks than $50,000, and I will retire from baseball before signing a contract that calls for this amount. I have made no counter offers to the Yankee management, but I believe Colonel Ruppert and myself can get together without a lot of trouble."

ROCKY BROOKS WILL RETURN TO LOCAL MAT

Victoria Grappler to Meet Harry Demetral at Pacific Stadium on Saturday

Returning to Victoria after a successful three months' tour of the Pacific Coast and Southern States, "Rocky" Brooks, local heavyweight grappler, will show his wares at the Pacific Stadium on Saturday, Promoter "Winnipeg" Chilton announced yesterday. Brooks will tackle Harry Demetral, Chicago Greek, in one half of a double main event.

"Rocky" has had fifty matches during his tour and has made a creditable showing. He won twenty-three, drew fifteen and lost twelve, and has come up against some of the best men in the mat game, apart, of course, from those of championship class. He was due to return to Victoria a month ago but proved a good drawing card across the line so promotors there booked him up for a further tour. He will not arrive in Victoria till Saturday morning, as he has four matches in different Coast towns this week.

Brooks is a greatly improved wrestler, according to all accounts. He always possessed great strength, but lacked some of the finer points of the game and lost matches to more experienced opponents. He now states, in a letter to Chilton, that he has a lot of new tricks for local fans and is looking forward to his return to his home town to demonstrate his improvement.

Demetral is well known to local fans. He is a grappler of the rough and ready type but has been in the game a long time and knows his wrestling. He showed here recently and pleased the fans with his showing on that occasion and should prove a good opponent for Brooks.

TIGERS WIN TOP BERTH

Calgary Defeats Saskatoon to Capture First Place in W.C.H.L.

CALGARY, March 6 (CP).—Calgary Tigers captured first place in the Western Canada Professional Hockey League, and virtually ousted Saskatoon Crescents from any hope of a play-off berth by beating the Northern Saskatchewan crew, 2-1, in an overtime battle here tonight.

The victory put the Tigers three full games ahead of the Vancouver Maroons, who have only two games with Edmonton Eskimos left to play. The Crescents are still two games behind Eskimos, and a win or tie for the Edmonton squad will shove the Saskatoon puck-chasers out of the picture.

Clint Smith, taking a pass from St. John, scored for Crescents in the first period, and Louis Coupez, Tiger wingman, evened the count in the third when he was credited with a goal as Yorke fumbled in clearing, the puck dropping into the net. Coupez also scored the winning tally by beating Yorke a few seconds before the overtime session ended.

Eastern Markets Become Buoyant Late in Session

MONTREAL, March 6 (CP).—Taking its cue from a buoyant tone in wheat at Winnipeg, the stock market rallied sharply in the last hour of trading on the Montreal Stock Exchange today.

Leading issues were forced up fractions to 4 points and the closing tone was buoyant. With uncertainty prevailing over the muddled financial position of the United States, traders started the day off in cautious mood. Sales were kept to a minimum and the ticker ran idle for minutes at the time. It was not until the last hour that fairly brisk demand developed for International Nickel and Canadian Pacific.

Market history was written in another way when Brazilian Traction, usually the active leader, did not have one board-lot sale. About fifty shares in broken lots were traded in the issue. Consolidated Smelters closed 4 points higher, at 59 1-2. Nickel closed unchanged, at 9. Canadian Pacific moved up sharply to finish a point higher, at 11 1-8, the highest in several weeks.

The advance in wheat prices was followed by fractional improvement in the farm impliment shares.

United States financial trouble was reflected in the gold mining shares on the curb, which declined as a body. Losses ranged as high as $2 a share.

Sales totaled 7,932 shares, bonds, $20,200. Dominion of Canada conversion loan, 1959, slumped 2.65 to 97.50.

TORONTO STOCK EXCHANGE

TORONTO, March 6 (CP).—Opening in an atmosphere of caution and wariness, due to lack of guidance from the New York market, which was closed, the Toronto Stock Exchange gained confidence as the day progressed and staged a bold advance shortly before the close. The rally whipped out the losses registered in the morning period of easiness, and carried fifteen stocks to net gains against 10 showing recessions and 17 finishing unchanged.

International Nickel was the big trader, turning over 3,700 shares and closing 1-8 down for the day. Brazilian had a net gain of 3-8 to 7 3-4, C.P.R., 3-4 to 11, and Ford "A" closed 1-8 off, at 6 1-8. Smelters advanced 3 1-2 to 59 1-2.

Imperial Oil featured the oil section with a gain of 1-4 to 8 3-8. British American Oil gained 1-8 and International Peteroleum was 1-4 lower.

Agricultural implement stocks were buoyant, drawing help from the improved wheat market.

In the food shares, Canners second preferred and Dominion Stores were up fractions, while the beverage and bank stocks were inactive. Utilities were uniformly strong.

TORONTO MINING MARKET

TORONTO, March 6 (CP).—Mining stocks suffered a few bumps from the financial disturbances in the United States, all the big gold producers closing on the Standard Mining Exchange today with losses, although not at the lows for the day. Uneasiness over the outlook for the premium on United States funds, in which the mines are paid for their output, caused a sell-off in the first hour today when the lows were established, and thereafter sentiment and prices gradually improved.

The late afternoon trading was featured by a sharp advance of the silver shares and some of the base metals, including International Nickel.

The buying of the silver stocks was based on a report of a substantial jump for bar silver in London. Mining Corporation advanced from 1.20 to 1.40, Nipissing from a low of 1.30 to 1.70, Eldorado from a low of 1.19 to 1.35 and Castle from 21 1-2 to 25.

Trading in the gold shares was off from recent sessions and selling pressure was absent except in the first half hour. Teck-Hughes closed at 3.85. Wright-Hargreaves closed at 3.90, up 10. Dome and Hollinger finished down 35 each, at 13.90 and 6.50 respectively; Lakeshore off 90, at 31.60; McIntyre off 1.30, at 21.50, and Pioneer off, 50, at 5.35.

Ventures held the centre of interest in the cheaper group with a turnover of 31,000 shares, closing at $1, off 8. Siscoe fell back 10 to 1.35, San Antonio, 5 to 75, Howey, 1 to 64, and Granada, 4 to 1.30.

Among the penny shares, Barry Hollinger dropped 1 to 9, Macassa, 3 to 25, and Vickers, 2 to 18.

PRECIOUS METAL ISSUES DECLINE

Price Drop at Vancouver Follows Weakness of Gold Stocks on Eastern Markets

VANCOUVER, March 6 (CP).—Acting in sympathy with Eastern markets, where gold shares declined sharply as a result of the United States banking situation, leaders in the precious metals group slid downward on the Vancouver Stock Exchange today. Declines were irregular, ranging from fractions to as much as 70 points.

Bralorne, one of the most active traders of the day, opened off 12 at 2.20, held that figure until arcund noon, then tumbled rapidly lower, to end the day at 2.07, down 25 from Saturday's level. Pioneer dipped to 5.40 from an opening of 5.50, ending the day down 70. Cariboo Gold eased 10 to 2.35, and Reno was off 5 to 58. Bridge River fluctuated narrowly from an opening at 7, closing at that figure for a loss of a half. Premier Gold recovered 2 points of an early morning loss, closing off a half at 72. Noble Five and Georgia River were each fractionally lower, as was Silverorest, the most active issue of the day.

Big Missouri and Pend Oreille failed to follow the general trend, the former adding 2 cents to its Saturday closing price, while Pend Oreille climbed 5 to 58.

CANADIAN DOLLAR MAY BE BASIS OF TRADE WITH BRITISH BUYERS

MONTREAL, March 6 (CP).—Trading with European grain buyers on a basis of Canadian dollars was seen here as a possible consequence of the exchange rate situation.

"I have just received a cable from an Antwerp man who wants to do business in Canadian currency, but he said he simply cannot buy any currency," a grain exporter said today. "He is going to try to get some by tomorrow."

Trading was at a standstill when the Montreal corn exchanges opened because no quotation was obtainable on sterling. Later a quotation was received by cable, and then for the first time in history direct negotiations were in progress between Montreal and London on the basis of a quotation on sterling in terms of Canadian dollars.

Two-Cent Gain at Winnipeg Scored on Feverish Trading

WINNIPEG, March 6 (CP).—Perched atop of the 55-cent-per-bushel mark—at least in one future—Canadian wheat today looked back over the easily-won ground of the past two days and prepared to make further assaults to still higher levels. And as wheat futures on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange touched price levels they had not seen in more than five months, farmers hoped their two-year dream of "dollar" wheat would soon be realized.

Booming upward in a series of smashing upswings, futures today added more than 2 cents to the 1 3-4-cent advance of Saturday. May delivery closed at 52 1-4 cents, July, 53 3-8, and the October option at 55 cents, a price it had not seen since early last October.

As on Saturday, when the upward trend first started, bullish enthusiasm was at fever heat today. Forced to transfer their business to the local market when the Chicago Board of Trade closed, Southern traders again unloaded a flood of buying orders in the wheat pit.

Grain brokers, taxed to the utmost to cope with a rush of business they had not seen since 1929, fought to fill their orders. At one period prices were nearly 3 cents higher.

A glance at the "privilege" market quotations gave an indication of the fluctuations in the futures pit. "Bids" and "offers," by which brokers may insure their commitments against wide fluctuations the following day, were nearly 3 cents "away" from the closing prices. For the past few months privilege prices have been within a cent of the futures closes.

Montreal Produce

MONTREAL, March 6 (CP).—With all trading on a domestic basis, Montreal produce men were not affected today by the United States banking holiday. Eggs and potato prices were lower.

Fresh graded eggs in car lots or less lost a cent a dozen, at 23 to 24 cents for extras, 21 to 22 cents for firsts, 20 cents for pullets and 19 to 20 cents a dozen for seconds.

Butter was unchanged at 24 1-4 to 24 1-2 cents a pound for car lots or less of No. 1 grass make.

Fresh or current make of Ontario colored cheese sold steady, at 10 to 10 1-2 cents a pound.

HER "SWAN SONG"

"She has sung her swan song before, and this will not be her last."

That was said about a popular opera singer who sang repeated "farewells" before she retired. And the term, "swan song," is familiar to all of us for a farewell performance, or the last creative effort of an artist.

The allusion is to the song popularly believed to be sung by a swan when dying. The origin of the metaphor is found in the "Epigrams" of the famous Latin "Martial," probably Marcus Valerius Martialis, who is believed to have lived from the year forty to 102 A.D. And a well-known use of it is in Shakespeare's "Merchant of Venice."

She entered the police station in a great state of agitation, and demanded to see the officer in charge.

"Yes, madam?" asked the individual, politely, "what can I do for you?

"Have the river dragged, she answered. "My husband has been constantly threatening to drown himself, and now he's been missing for two whole days.

"Is there any peculiarity about him by which we can identify him?" asked the officer.

For several moments the woman was absorbed in thought, a perplexed frown on her brow. Then her face brightened.

"Oh, yes," she explained, "he's stone deaf."

IS THE RISK WORTH WHILE
Business conditions have made the management and conservation of estates increasingly difficult. Is it wise then to entrust this work to any but the most experienced?
Results have proved—especially during recent years—that estates handled by corporate trustees have fared considerably better than those handled by individuals. This is not strange, as it is obvious that management by an over-burdened individual would be less effective than that of a body of men whose sole business is the care and management of funds and property.
The officers of this institution are always glad to discuss with clients and prospective clients plans for the conservation of their estates.
We invite you to make use of our services.

REST TREATMENT OR OPERATION FOR SEVERE GOITRE

The symptoms that accompany severe goitre—very rapid heart, protruding eyeballs, extreme trembling of the limbs or body, and digestive distress—can usually be relieved by a surgical operation. A heart beating as high as 120 to the minute may, after operation, beat at normal rate of seventy-two.

Where the patient is afraid of operation, or where it would not be safe to operate, what is called the medical and rest treatment has brought about a cure in thousands of cases. This means complete rest, plenty of food, limiting the meat only, mild medicines to induce rest or sleep, and the quieting influence of a doctor who knows how to treat the patient as well as the disease.

Dr. I. Bram, London, England, reports that in treating 2,000 cases by this method ninety per cent regained perfect health and that the average time away from customary duties was fifteen weeks. In his opinion the reason that medical treatment has failed in many cases is because the patient was in too much of a hurry to get well and would not take the needed rest which is the big factor in obtaining a cure.

And you can readily see that a patient who is naturally very active because severe thyroid disease makes him more active, finds it very difficult to remain quietly in bed or at complete rest for weeks and months, because fifteen weeks was just the average time in this series of cases.

The big point about this rest treatment is that, should the patient still have symptoms after weeks of resting, and gets to a point where there is no further improvement, then this very rest puts him in good condition to undergo operation.

However, there are some cases so severe that immediate operation is necessary, as the condition has advanced too far to hope for a cure from the rest treatment.

Further, there are a great many people, wage earners, or mothers, who simply cannot afford to rest the weeks and months necessary to obtain a cure. Naturally, an operation which will usually get them home from the hospital within two or three weeks is the correct treatment in these cases.

In other words, each case must be treated according to all the circumstances present.

CHAPTER XII

Coming downstairs late that afternoon Manning paused in the hallway, for from behind the closed door of the Morons' studio came an exclamation of pain and surprise in a man's voice, then an oath, then the man called a woman an ugly name. The door opened and Virginia stood there, in her scant little black dress, with her flaming hair disheveled about her face, her firm chin lifted high on a slim taut column of neck in an attitude of pride and contempt—with a lighted cigarette in her hand. Behind her stood a tall gangling youth, about twenty-one, dressed so much like an artist that it was impossible to believe he could really be one. He wore knickers, a nipped-in coat, a lavender shirt and a flowing tie. His mouse-colored hair was combed back from his face and dripped over his collar in the back. His insignificant features were decorated with a small reddish moustache, which perched on his upper lip like a butterfly.

Just then the red of the moustache was dimmed by the crimson of his face. He put his hand to his chin to feel of a small round burn. Manning stared fascinated at Virginia's cigarette; she had confirmed the current legend concerning her—"She draws a line and when a man steps over that, she burns him with a cigarette."

She saw Manning and smiled, but the youth evidently did not, for he said hotly, "You're damn careful for a girl that'll stay all night in a man's studio."

Virginia laughed, a mellow contralto chuckle. "You've forgotten an important detail, haven't you, Pete? The man wasn't here, you know." Then she called to Manning. "Hello, Manning. Pete and I are quarreling. Come on and tear us apart. Pete, this is Manning Colby, who has just sold that landscape to the calendar people. And this, Manning, is Peter Hughs."

Peter Hughs lifted his small moustache and showed his teeth like an angry guinea pig. "Come in," he said, with the utmost ungraciousness.

The Morons' "studio" looked like a boudoir decorated for a Hallowe'en party—numerous cretonne-covered couches, avalanches of pillows ranging from felt college cushions to pink organdie and baby blue chiffon, according to the tastes of their numerous girl friends, orange crepe paper lamp-shades, strings of postal cards on ribbons, old burlesque posters and a few ultra-modern paintings. And by way of showing that they were free souls inured to the ways of the world, they had covered their ceiling with nudes cut from French magazines.

Virginia explained, "I stayed here last night. Here Pete, here's George's key. I might not happen to see him today."

Rather magnificent, Manning reflected, her disregard for appearance or apologies.

She threw the crumpled cigarette that had been an instrument of punishment into an ash tray, selected another from a box on the table, and flung herself down on one of the ubiquitous couches. The Pete person stood by the window scowling out at the street. Manning had disliked him immediately. On snap judgment he would have said that there was something mean about him—not bad or vicious—just mean. He was capable of littleness. For instance, if Virginia were to hurt his vanity, he might break the agreement the boys had had and tell the police what he knew of her being out of their studio at the time of the murder. Virginia must be careful not to hurt his vanity. Which was exactly what she proceeded to do.

She pointd to a picture on the wall in back of her. It appeared to be a small house, drawn with four uncertain lines as a six-year-old child might have done it, standing on a pile of spaghetti and leaning lopsided against a large moon.

"Pete's work," she said, with a hint of amusement in her eyes.

Pete turned, ran his hand over his flowing hair in a world-weary gesture and said, "I don't suppose you'll understand it. You do commercial work, don't you? I never could do that hack stuff. You see, I've stumbled on something I must express."

"Stumbled is the right word, Pete," Virginia laughed. "You'd better not show that house to the building commissioner—he might condemn it."

Pete's sallow face flushed a dull red and there was a mean light in his small eyes. Virginia must be cautioned to be careful!

And then the conversation automatically shifted from the art of painting pictures to the art of mixing drinks, for the other three members of the Moron quartette burst noisily into the room, three rather ordinary, rather good looking youths of about college age, hatless and coatless, with shirts open at the throat and nipped-in waists and trousers which flapped about their ankles like tents in a wind.

"We've got it," they chanted, "we've got it," and from somewhere they produced a number of bottles.

"George," Virginia said, to the best looking one, "George this is Manning Colby. He has a studio above you."

"Hello sweetness," George shouted —not to Manning but to Virginia. He flopped down on the couch beside her and rested his head against her shoulder. Virginia took the head in her hands, moved it to a lavender chiffon pillow, and smoked on unperturbed. But Manning had a violent and, to him, inexplicable urge to take the aforesaid George by the seat of his voluminous trousers and pitch him through the window.

"Mike! Fred!" Virginia hailed the other two who where attacking the bottles on the table with corkscrews. "Boys, I want you to meet Manning Colby."

"For heaven's sake, don't spill it!" Mike said. "You know it took all my allowance."

"I know you'd be interested in Manning's work," Virginia went on. "He has some beautiful stuff in his studio now."

"There, you spilled it yourself," Fred scolded.

George offered Virginia a bottle. "Drink, Ginny?"

She shook her head. Manning also refused after looking at the table, stained and pock-marked by drinks spilled at previous parties.

And so the party moved forward. They discussed art and the stupid unimaginative work of the average commercial artist, women and their proper place, a certain peroxide blonde known as Pistol Shot Susie, modern poetry, and the girls in a certain burlesque show, and they explained to Manning very carefully how sophisticated and cynical and disillusioned and bored they themselves were.

Manning was also bored, but at the same time amused. He seated himself beside Virginia, and under cover of the general hubbub said, "Nice kids, really, underneath. Perfectly harmless. But they're taking the sowing of their wild oats seriously."

"Children?" he queried, "How old are you, anyway, Virginia?"

"Twenty-four," she told him.

Twenty-four. Three years younger than he. But she looked eighteen. Her skin was as delicate as a baby's. There was a fresh softness in the outlines of her face. Just then her mouth was atrociously painted. But there was about her features a fine tracery that bespoke generations of good breeding. That very lovely head should not have as a background, as it had at that moment, a large poster of fat kicking burlesque ladies. There should be . . .

"You'll be sorry some day-ee," Pete had begun to sing in a mushy syrupy crooner's tenor.

The others joined in howling, "You'll be sorry some day-ee—perhaps when I'm gone."

Manning felt a ghastly sickish sensation. The sticky sentimental ballad had turned the hands of the clock back—again he heard old Dan mutter, "Von Veh is dead!" while that song, garish and derisive, floated out from behind the Moron's closed door.

He turned to Virginia and saw in her eyes just for a moment—what was it?—a terrible fear? Before he could be sure of it, it had vanished. She called out in a phraseology oddly at variance with her lovely voice, "Oh, can it, kids!"

"Yes," George chimed in. "Stop it. You know we ushered in the angel of death to that song the other night." His voice was flippant but his rather fine brown eyes were troubled.

Pete continued to wail in that silly crooning voice, "You'll be sorry some day-ee . . ." And Manning fancied that his eyes were on Virginia and that there was a spark of vindictiveness in them.

"You'll be sorry some day-ee."

The song snapped off. The singer stared with his mouth agape. At the open door stood a man, holding back the lapel of his coat. Under the lapel was a star.

"You fellows'll have to come along with me," he said. "The chief wants to talk to you."

The four of them filed as quietly as though their going were a part of the daily routine.

As quietly Manning and Virginia stood there, robbed for the moment of all power of thought and speech. Virginia's hand was raised in a half gesture just as it had been when the man appeared. She held it in that position as though she were posing for a photograph.

Finally Manning spoke. "What?" he asked.

"I don't know," she answered. "I can't imagine."

"But," he began, "what could there be?"

Then his sentence was cut off as suddenly as Pete's song had been. He was staring at Virginia's upraised hand—the left hand. On the index finger she wore a topaz ring—such a very large ring—with a sort of sharp silver leaf protruding from it.

He looked at his own hand—at the cut made by a large ring—a ring on the hand he had grasped and held in the dark in the basement—before the woman screamed.

Burgess Bedtime Stories

Paddy the Beaver Receives Visitors

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Politeness never makes a foe;
Remember this where e'er you go.
—Old Mother Nature.

"A you say, nothing is lost by being prepared," said she

Paddy the Beaver and Mrs. Paddy had been working long and hard, for they were people of wisdom and never make the mistake of forgetting in the joys of today the needs of tomorrow. So for weeks they had been repairing their house and their two dams, digging out their underwater channels and cutting and hauling logs for their Winter supply of food.

"We may not be going to have a hard Winter," said Paddy to Mrs. Paddy, "but if we do it will not matter, for we will be prepared for it. I never did believe in just living from day to day. That is what a lot of our neighbors do. They seem to think that days of plenty and easy living will last forever, and experience teaches them nothing. The signs look to me like a long, cold, hard Winter ahead of us, but signs sometimes fail. Anyway it will make no difference with us, for in either case we will have plenty to eat and nothing to worry about."

Mrs. Paddy nodded in agreement. "As you say, nothing is lost by being prepared," said she. "Tomorrow is always another day, but that makes no difference to those who have prepared for it. I should say that this food pile is about big enough. What do you think?"

Paddy swam around the big pile of short logs and sticks. "A few more sticks; just a few more sticks, my dear," said he, "and then we will take things easy."

Mrs. Paddy made no reply, but promptly started off and Paddy followed. All that night they worked, cutting and hauling logs and trimmed branches and floating them down to that fool pile close to their house.

"There," said Paddy, as just before dawn he forced a stick of yellow birch into the pile, "we've bark enough to last us until Summer, no matter how long the Winter may be. Now Jack Frost can come and freeze things tight as soon as he pleases for all we care. My, I certainly am tired. We've done a lot of work, my dear, a lot of work."

Mrs. Paddy munched some poplar twigs. "We have so," said she, "but now that it is finished it was worth while. We'll have all the time we want in which to rest."

"And I am going to begin right now," replied Paddy, and dived for the entrance to their house. Mrs. Paddy promptly followed.

It was late in the afternoon of that day before either stirred. Then they went out together for dinner and to enjoy the luxury of just swimming or sitting about without thought of work. Their pond was like a mirror. Not a ripple marred its smooth surface. All around it stood the trees of the Green Forest. Presently they heard just the faintest snap of a twig, and a moment later Lightfoot the Deer stepped out on the shore and for a moment stood motionless with his head crowned with antlers showing no less than ten points, thrown proudly up as he listened and tested the air. Then he stooped to drink.

"Isn't he handsome

CHESTER MORRIS HAS MALE LEAD

Plays Opposite Jean Harlow in "Red-Headed Woman," Now at Capitol

Transferring a novel so sensational and so widely-read as Katharine Brush's "Red Headed Woman" to the screen was something of a challenge to the talkies. But the feat has been accomplished in a highly workmanlike manner in the film version which opened yesterday at the Capitol Theatre.

As surprising as the story itself is the appearance in the title role of Jean Harlow. Miss Harlow has never before had a role which imposes so stern a requirement on her acting ability, and she meets the test with flying colors. As the husband who dances to the tune of the red-head's siren song, Chester Morris has a role far removed from his usual gun-man type of roles.

"Face in the Sky" the second feature on the bill, is an outstanding production.

Spencer Tracy turns in what is possibly his finest performance as the self-assured "artist," with Marion Nixon a perfect contrast as the heroine and the inimitable Stuart Irwin in a made-to-order role as Tracy's blundering helper.

AMUSEMENTS

On the Screen

Columbia — "Men Are Such Fools," featuring Leo Carrillo.

Playhouse—Joan Crawford, in "This Modern Age."

Romano — "Play Girl," with Loretta Young.

EMPIRE PRESENTS BRITISH SUCCESS

Wealth of Color and Amusement in "Down Our Street," Now Showing Here

Despite the poverty of the little East End London Street, round which the film "Down Our Street" is written, there is a wealth of color and movement in this Paramount British production, now showing at the Empire Theatre.

Perhaps the most amusing sequence is that of the fun-fair, in which is found every possible kind of amusement, including dart-wheels, shooting galleries, cocoa-nut shies, round-a-bouts, and peep-shows. The peep-shows include such well-known favorites as "The Disappearing Lady," "The Death of Landru," "The Last Moments of a Miser," and "A Haunted House."

Whilst electric pianos vie with punch-balls, the blare of trumpets from the round-a-bouts compete with the gentlemen who urge one that their particular show is the "one and only."

DOMINION THEATRE Renate Muller, popular star of "Sunshine Susie," is now at the Dominion Theatre, in "Marry Me." "Marry Me" is a British picture and boasts an exceptionally fine cast, George Robey, eminent British actor, plays the role of a Hungarian farmer; Harry Green is seen as a match maker, and Billy Caryll, as his assistant.

COLUMBIA THEATRE "Men Are Such Fools," the R.K.O.-Radio Picture, now at the Columbia Theatre, is not a filmusical, operetta or musical comedy, yet three-fourths of the story interest is musical. Featured in the picture are a symphony orchestra, a fifty-piece band, two modern jazz orchestras and two child bands. It is, however, a story about music and musicians. Naturally the principal highlights exploit music.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE Neil Hamilton, playing in "This Modern Age," the Joan Crawford M.-G.-M. Parisian comedy, now at the Playhouse Theatre, was born in Lynn, Massachusetts. He attended school in Athol, Massachusetts, and went to New York in 1917, where he registered at various studios. He drifted into extra work and played small parts for several years. His latest successes were with Norma Shearer in "Strangers May Kiss," and with Miss Crawford in "Laughing Sinners."

ROMANO THEATRE "Play Girl," the Warner Bros. and Vitaphone picture, featuring Loretta Young, Winnie Lightner, Guy Kibbee and Norman Foster, and now at the Romano Theatre, has been called an epic of the department store by many reviewers. The locale furnishes as rich a variety of characters as a union depot or a great hotel. The love story of an ambitious clerk who means to make her own way to fame and fortune without marital ties—and changes her mind—is intensely dramatic and provides Miss Young with her greatest emotional role. She impersonates a mother for the first time. Ray Enright directed.

MYSTERY THRILLER COMING TO EMPIRE

With such fine actors as Hugh Wakefield and Gordon Harker, among others in a brilliant cast, it is hardly to be wondered at that "The Man They Couldn't Arrest" should be spoken of as one of the film triumphs of the season. It was left to Gainsborough to provide the screen version of this "Seamark" thriller, and all who have discovered excitement in the novel will revel in the film story of a monocled inventor-hero who provides Scotland Yard with a succession of surprises. "The Man They Couldn't Arrest" will open at the Empire Theatre soon.

GREAT VIOLINIST IS WIDELY KNOWN

Joseph Szigeti, who will appear at Shrine on March 27, Praised by Critics

Joseph Szigeti, known from Manchester to Moscow, from Cuba to Canada, and from New York to San Francisco, sailed last year for his first visit to the Orient. Leaving Paris late in April, Szigeti traveled East via Berlin, where he played twice with orchestra, and Moscow, where he gave two sold-out recitals, by which he earned his transit through Russia. The Soviet authorities, when the violinist applied for a visa, practically made his playing in Russia, where he is extremely popular and where he has made eight tours since 1924, a "sine qua non."

Szigeti played twenty concerts in China and Japan, as well as concerts in Singapore, Saigon, Java and the Phillipines.

One of the reviewers of a Chinese paper wrote: "A fanfare of calling voices and salvos of applause brought the brilliant Hungarian violinist, Joseph Szigeti, to the stage again and again before the audience which packed the theatre."

This great violinist will appear in Victoria on Monday, March 27, at the Shrine Auditorium.

"Equality of races and freedom of religious belief are fundamental principles of the Kuomingtang," is the statement made in a mandate issued by the political council of this organization on November 8, 1932." Inasmuch as our Nationalist Government is founded on these principles, the Government has done all within its power to cultivate and protect the various races and religions in the country," this official deliverance goes on to say.

AMBULANCE UNIT TO MEET IN VANCOUVER

The annual reunion of the 13th Field Ambulance, C.E.F., "Get Together Club," will be held next Monday, March 13, in the Cinderella Hall, at 11th Avenue and Main Street, Vancouver, at 8 p.m. The gathering will take the form of a smoking concert and social evening, and all members, particularly those of Vancouver Island, are requested to attend.

The horse is a very noble quadruped, but when it is angry he will not do so. He is ridden on the spinal cord by the bridle, and sadly the driver places his foots on the stirrups and divides his lower limbs across the saddle and drives his animal to the meadow. He has four legs, two are on the front side and two are afterward. These are the weapons on which he runs. He also defends himself by extending these in the rear. They have got tails, but not so long as the cow and such other like animals.

TO KEEP WATCH ON MORATORIUM

Committee of Chamber of Commerce Will Be Named to Guard Situation

A committee of the Chamber of Commerce will be named to watch proceedings with regard to legislation respecting the moratorium affecting mortgages. The matter was brought up at the meeting of the directors of the chamber yesterday by the president, R. H. B. Ker. He said that Vancouver was preparing to make representations in the matter. He felt that it would be well to be prepared to support the Vancouver move if deemed necessary.

Mr. Ker declared that at present the moratorium prevented foreclosure if the taxes and the interest were paid. Even this had had the effect of frightening capital, and the big corporations were no longer in the field. He was of the opinion that it would be better to leave the legislation so that an appeal might be made to the courts and the option left with the judge in the matter.

G. H. Walton, of the Sidney Mills, pointed out that the moratorium applied at present only to old mortgages and not to new ones that might be made.

J. H. Beatty, M.P.P., said that he had consulted Attorney-General Pooley and he found that there was no likelihood of making amendments to the moratorium that would be dangerous. He suggested that a committee be named to watch the proceedings. This was acted upon.
